CHAMPION FLYER BREAKS RECORD

Harry Atwood Will Reach New York City Today.

DISTANCE IS 1,165 MILES

Famous Aviator Has Covered Six States in Flight From St. Louis. Landed in Apple Orchard Yesterday—Curious.

Castleton, N. Y., Aug. 23.—On the last lap of his flight from St. Louis to New York, Harry N. Atwood, the aviator, tonight has his aeroplane hitched to an apple tree on top of a hill here, overlooking the Hudson river, and Albany, eight miles to the north. Tomorrow Atwood expects, in what he calls "two bird hops," to complete his journey in New York, landing in Sheepshead Bay, with a possible preliminary circle over Governor's Island.

On landing, the aviator will have accomplished the longest flight through the air ever made by man in a heavier than air machine. He will hold the world's record for a cross-country flight and he believes he has set a pace in the development of aeroplanes which will result in more long distance attempts and a gradual elimination of fatal contests at aviation meets.

Atwood hopes to sail over the 134 miles between here and New York before mid-afternoon. When he landed here, Atwood in ten days had flown 1,131 miles from St. Louis without any mishap more serious than losing his way in a run from Lyons, N. Y., to Auburn. His biplane has endured the test without damage. It was only because of a slight wearing of the bearings of his engine that Atwood decided not to continue his flight tonight, but to put everything in shape for smooth sailing tomorrow.

Leaving here, probably early, Atwood will take a straight course down the river, flying over or near Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Fishkill, Newburn, Ossining and intermediate points. His appearance over Rhine Cliff, opposite Kingston, will mark his breaking the world's record for cross country flying, for at that point he will have exceeded by 13 miles the present record of 1,164 miles. At New York he will have flown 1,265 miles, or 101 miles above the present record.

Atwood's flight today of 66 miles between Fort Plain and Castleton was the only day's run which he started and ended before noon. From Fort Plain, where he ascended in a fog at 7:25 A. M., he swept through the Mohawk valley, "turned the corner" for the south at Albany and landed here at 9:12 A. M. He stopped 15 minutes en route for gasoline, making his actual flying time one hour and 32 minutes.

Over villages and cities, disregarding all offers of money bonuses to land in places where great crowds awaited him, Atwood sailed through the valley in the fog and against the wind. Whistles and ringing of bells had no inducement for him, for generally he detoured around cities.

A summary of Atwood's St. Louis-New York flight is as follows:

Distance to fly to New York, 134 miles.

Distance already flown from St. Louis 1,131 miles.

Total time in the air, 25 hours and eight minutes.

Days flying, ten.

Portions of States passed over: Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York. Cities: St. Louis, Chicago, Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo and Albany.

Will beat the world's long distance record at Rhine Cliff, when he will be 13 miles more than present record of 1,164 miles.

Expects to reach New York Thursday afternoon when he will be 1,165 miles from his starting point.

Atwood landed on the property of an irate farmer, who protested against the appearance of the "man bird" and its consequent inrush of the people. The more the farmer protested the greater became the crowd and soon a nearby apple orchard was half denuded of its fruit.

RIOTING IN ENGLAND

Further Anti-Jewish Outbreaks — Sir Philip Magnus Talks.

Newport, Eng., August 23.—Rioting occurred tonight at Bargood, on the Glamorgan border. A dozen English and Jewish shops were wrecked and looted. Troops were called to the assistance of the police and dispersed the wreckers.

No further rioting has occurred in the Monmouthshire Valley towns, but the threatening attitude of the mobs at Tredegar and Rymney necessitates the continued presence there of the soldiers.

It is reported that Jewish families in other parts of South Wales are taking flight in fear of the extension of the outrages.

London, Aug. 23.—Sir Philip Magnus, speaking today of the anti-Jewish riots in Wales, said that he did not believe the outrages were inspired by either religious or racial prejudice, but were rather the outcome of the general spirit of unrest and discontent which is moving through all civilized nations.

TO PROTECT POLICY-HOLDERS

Urge Legislation to Control Industrial Health and Accident Insurance Companies—Too Many Unpaid Claims.

Milwaukee, Aug. 23.—Important legislation for the control of insurance companies doing industrial, health and accident business is proposed in the report of the special committee of the insurance commissioners of the United States, which was made public at the session of the convention here today.

The basis for the legislation as proposed is given in reports of the constitution of fourteen companies in which nearly 2,000 settlements effected by these companies are examined. In discussing the settlement of these claims the report says:

"Of the specific claims examined, where the amount involved is usually considerable, the percentage of scaled or rejected claims is high—very much too high to be explained by error of judgment or carlessness. Indeed, the committee feels warranted in concluding that when dealing with companies doing an industrial, health or accident business, the policy holder—particularly those who through ignorance or poverty are unable to protect themselves and therefore are peculiarly the wards of government as represented in this contention—has too frequently been the victim of unconscionable practices in the claims departments of the companies criticised in this report.

"Promises of reformation made at the hearings are therefore, not enough. This convention should take action which will guarantee the just treatment of policy holders in the future."

The list of companies whose examination was the occasion for the report follow: Standard Accident Insurance Company, Detroit, Mich.; United States Health and Accident Insurance Company, Saganaw, Mich.; Massachusetts Accident Company, Boston, Mass.; Great Eastern Casualty Company, New York; Federal Casualty Company, Detroit, Mich.; Equitable Accident Company, Boston, Mass.; Continental Casualty Company, Hammond, Ind.; North American Accident Insurance Company, Chicago; National Casualty Company, Detroit, Mich.; Fidelity Accident Company, Saganaw, Mich.; General Accident F. & L. Assurance Corporation; American Insurance Company, Philadelphia; Phoenix Preferred Accident Company, Detroit, Mich.; German Commercial Accident Company, Philadelphia.

The report says of one company:

"It is impossible in language fitted to an official document aptly to characterize what seem to have been the practices of the industrial deparement of this corporation in settling with its policy holders. It appears to have resorted to every possible means not merely to protect itself against imposition—for which it could not be criticised—but to cut and shave down claims, apparently without conscience and certainly without right."

The report further says that only two or three of the companies examined have been found to be substantially undeserving of any criticism. About half of the companies examined show serious conditions in their claim departments, particularly in the adjustment of specific claims of considerable amounts; while in at least two of such companies these conditions are so shocking as to call for immediate and emphatic reforms."

The report concludes with 24 recommendations, the most important of which are:

"That a standard industrial health and accident policy provision law be enacted; that pro-rating for change of occupation should be permitted only when the insured has actually changed his occupation; that the policy fee be abolished; that all industrial agents and collectors be licensed by the State; that frequent examinations covering not only financial condition but also treatment of policy holders be conducted either by the individual states or by a committee of the convention and that publicity be given to the results of all such examinations."

MARASCHINO CHERRY PROBE

Fifteen Cases of Imitations Seized by the Government

Washington, Aug. 23.—The question, "What is whiskey?" having been answered officially by a presidential ruling, the pure food experts of the Department of Agriculture now have taken up one of the other component parts of the seductive cocktail, and have pronounced the query, "What is a maraschino cherry?" holding that maraschino cherries should be bottled in maraschino liquor and not in a compound of benzaldehyde oil of almonds and glucose, the government asked for the seizure and condemnation of fifteen cases of what it claims are only imitations of real maraschinos. The libel was filed in the District Supreme Court here today, the alleged false maraschinos being in the possession of a local wine distributing concern.

General Houston was born in Virginia. The painting now hangs in the Senate chamber at Austin. It will be transferred with fitting ceremonies at the Virginia State capitol

TARIFF REVISION IS THE TREND

Democrats, Progressive Republicans and Standpatters All Have Plans.

INSURGENTS ARE ORGANIZED

Very Little Liklihood That They Will Rejoin Regulars—Renewed Coalition With Democrats Probability—Tariff Board.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The Democrats, the progressive Republicans, and the regular Republicans will have their own programme for tariff revision legislation when Congress reconvenes in December. This much was made clear today. All three elements in the Senate will be engaged in a great battle on the general subject of revision, the most important feature of the contemplated work of the regular session. Much of the trend of the fight will depend upon the report of the Tariff Board and the recommendations of the President in connection with that report.

The regular Republicans did not anticipate much actual tariff revision at the coming session by reason of the wide divergence of opinion in the Senate. They contend that failure is likely to follow attempts to bring together either the regular and progressive Republicans, or the latter and the Democrats. Neither the Democrats nor the progressive Republicans, whose alliance swept revision legislation through the Senate until the combination was broken on the cotton bill, are willing to predict the renewal of that alliance in December.

Senator Martin, of Virginia, Democratic leader of the Senate, declared today, however, that if the President's recommendations should be for large reductions and many of the regular stand-patters failed to support the recommendations, the situation would tend to line up the Democrats and Republican insurgents.

The regular Republicans have expressed the fear that the Tariff Board's recommendations may be too radical for their acceptance. They contend that most of the measures resulting from a progressive Republican Democratic alliance are likely to fail in conference on the ground that the Democrats desire to fight the next National campaign on the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. The regulars also depend on the Presidential veto to put a quietus on any measure that would be satisfactory to Democrats and Insurgents.

WILEY-WILSON CONTROVERSY.

National Convention of Pure Food and Dairy Departments Divided.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 23.—The National Association of Food and Dairy Departments has split squarely on the Wiley-Wilson controversy. Slates of candidates for the election of officers which will take place tomorrow afternoon have been prepared by each side.

The Wiley adherents practically conceded defeat for the presidency. They are outnumbered in the convention and $500 was posted to back W. H. Cutler, of Missouri, the Wilson candidate for the presidency, at the convention headquarters today. There were no takers.

The telegram which has been prepared and signed by the 20-odd Wiley men was proposed by Dr. C. D. Wood, of Maine, and commends Dr. Wiley's long service.

The two slates follow:

Wiley Slate: for president, L. F. Brown, Tennessee; for secretary, R. N. Allen, Kentucky; executive committee, C. D. Wood, of Maine; H. E. Barnard, of Indiana; W. M. Allen, North Carolina.

Wilson Slate: for president, W. P. Cutler, Missouri; for secretary, J. B. Newman, Illinois; executive board, undecided.

The telegram in support of Dr. Wiley will be sent tonight to President Taft and the members of the Wiley investigation.

PITCHER AND ARTIST FIGHT.

Repaired to Alley in Chicago to Settle Differences.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Tom Hughes, pitcher of the Washington team in the American League, and Edward Johnson, a Chicago artist, fought out a lively personal encounter in an alley back of a down-town hotel tonight, until stopped and arrested by the police. Both men took a severe drubbing and were bleeding freely when arrested.

The trouble started in the grill room of the hotel when Johnson criticised Hughes' pitching in Tuesday's game against the Chicago Americans. Hughes is said to have suggested that he and Johnson settle their differences of opinion by a round at fisticuffs.

"You're on," replied Johnson. "If you can't fight any better than you pitch, I'll win easily."

Charles King was selected as referee, Hughes and Johnson repaired to the alley, removed hats, coats and neckwear and the fight started.

King and Johnson were forced to [illegible] a night in a cell at the Harri[illegible] police station for their part [illegible]ut. Hughes was released on [illegible]ond and departed for Detroit [illegible] team. Before he left, how[illegible]ghes shook hands with John[illegible]declared the incident closed.

THAWS IN LIMELIGHT AGAIN

Evelyn Wants Lunacy Commission Appointed—Harry Resists and Claims He is Sane—His Income Now $60,000 Year.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 23.—An answer was filed today by Harry K. Thaw, through his attorney, former Governor William A. Stone, to petition of his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, in which Judge L. L. Davis was asked to appoint a lunacy commission to take charge of the income of Thaw in this State and provide for the support of the wife. Thaw's income is said to be $60,000 a year.

Thaw claims that the verdict of the jury in New York State was not a finding that he was insane, and that the sentence confining him at Matteawan was statutory entirely and not a proceeding as to the lunacy of Thaw. He claims that the fact that he is still confined in Mattewan hospital, under the order of court, does not judicially or in any way establish his present insanity. The answer alleges that the petition asks the court to do what it has no authority to do.

In the second part of the answer Thaw states:

"Your affiant is not at present insane. He is quite capable of attending to his own affairs, and does attend to his own affairs. He transacts his own business. If there was ever any derangement mentally the affiant has entirely recovered from it and is now in the possession of all of his mental faculties."

The Department of Justice has offered the following rewards for the apprehension of the men: Welborn Nance, $500; Roscoe Lane, $500; Zonia Nance, $300. From the latter's name it was though that it was a woman so that only $300 was asked of the deparement for his apprehension.

It is believed that the men will try to make their escape from Wilkes country through the following places: Johnson City, Tenn.; Bristol, Abington, Va.; Marion, Va.; Pulaski, Va.; Roanoke, Va.; Asheville, Galax, Marion, N. C.

Information is to the effect that Mr. Henry's condition is improving.

THE BANKING TRUST QUESTION.

President Taft Will Decide As to Its Legality.

Washington, Aug. 23.—President Taft will decide if the government, under the terms of the National Bank Act, can permit National Banks to own interests in other banking institutions. Attorney General Wickersham and Secretary MacVeagh have disagreed on the question, which was raised by the Attorney General's investigation of the relations of the National City Bank of New York to the National City Company. As a result, all the papers in the case were sent to the President at Beverly today.

VIRGINIA FISHERIES.

Oyster Grounds Dispute of Ten Years' Standing Decided.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 23.—The Virginia State Fisheries Commission in session here today, decided oyster ground disputes of ten years' standing. The commission working on the report of State Surveyor Ruediger decided seven cases in the James river from deep water light to White Shoals light. Five large planters at Deep Water light, one at Mulberry Point and one at Point of Shoals were found to be encroaching on the State rocks and ordered to vacate forthwith. All seven planters at once acceded.

THE BEATTIE JURY IS NOW COMPLETE

Commonwealth Will Call First Witness in Famous Murder Case Today.

JUDGE'S CHARGE A FEATURE

Nine Jurymen Are Farmers—Father Remains With His Son Throughout Day — Await Binford Girl's Testimony

Chesterfield Court House, Va., Aug. 23. — The jury which will decide whether Henry C. Beattie, Jr., of Richmond, Va., shall go to the electric chair, convicted of wife murder, was completed in battered old Chesterfield Court House today. The battle for human life, will begin at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning to which hour the court adjourned. The commonwealth then will call its first witness.

The prisoner was locked up for the night in the small jail here and will not be returned to the Richmond jail during the trial. His gray-haired father embraced him and journeyed home in a dusty public conveyance surrounded by the curious.

Made up almost entirely of lean, bronzed faced farmers, the jury as completed follows the lines indicated by Monday's selections. The twelve men as they remain after the defense exercised its four peremptory challenges on the panel of sixteen are:

No. 1—N. W. Farley, quarryman, 37 years old.
No. 2—E. L. Wilson, 38 years old.
No. 3—A. L. Fetteroff, contractor, 34 years old.
No. 4—Irving L. Bass, Jr., 30 years old.
No. 5—V. W. Fuqua, 27 years old.
No. 6—W. L. Burgess, 52 years old.
No. 7—M. E. Purdie, 27 years old.
No. 8—M. C. Robinson, 44 years old.
No. 9—Thomas A. Hancock, 37 years old.
No. 10—Lewis Robertson, 44 years old.
No. 11—W. P. Rooke, 48 years old.
No. 12—M. E. Blankenship, assistant superintendent of a silk mill, 38 years old.

All of the foregoing are farmers except the three otherwise specified.

Beattie conferred earnestly with his lawyrs and studied intently the faces in the full panel of sixteen men before th defense decided on its liminations. Then, after a moment of whispered conversation with H. M. Smith, Jr., his chief counsel, the prisoner nodded his head and the clerk announced that the names of four farmers selected on Monday were dropped from the list.

In charging the jurors, who will be kept during the trial at an old tavern near the court house, Judge Walter A. Watson simply set forth the law of Virginia as applicable to homicide. As the indictment covers all degrees from the first degree to involuntary manslaughter, he explained that the defendant might be found guilty accordingly.

"If you find him guilty of murder in the first degree," said the court, "you shall say so and nothing more, in which event the punishment shall be death, but if you find him guilty of murder in the second degree you shall say so and shall fix his punishment by confinement in the penitentiary at not less than five nor more than eighteen years."

After citing the penalty for lesser degrees of manslaughter the court concluded with the words that "if you find the prisoner not guilty of any of the offense charged you shall say so and no more."

It was hot almost to suffocation in the little court room today. None of the witnesses was on hand and those who came to see Beulah Binford, the "girl in the case," were disappointed. She will probably not be called to testify until late in the week.

Thomas Owen, an uncle of Mrs. Beattie, to whose home Henry brought the body with a tale of a bearded highway man firing into his automobile from the roadway, likely will be the first witness called for the commonwealth in the morning.

Chesterfield Court House, Aug. 23.—Forest fires, sweeping through pines and scrub aks, were burning tonight around the small jail where Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., is held, presumably started this afternoon by a match thrown aside by a spectator at today's proceedings. More than a mile of underbrush, 200 yards wide had been burned tonight and farmers were fighting the blaze to protect their homes. Isolated as it is in the rear of the Court House lawn, the jail where Beattie is confined is in no danger, but telegraph and telephone wires, strung especially for the trial, are threatened with destruction.

BOSTON ITALIANS SUSPECTED

Boston, Aug. 23.—Two Boston Italians, suspected of knowing something about the death of Lieut. William A. Whittier, U. S. N., who was assaulted on the water front last Saturday, are under arrest here.

New York, Aug. 23.—All grades of refined sugar were advanced ten cents a hundred pounds today.

TAFT BERATES DEMOGOGUES

He Opposes Nostrums of Reform Proposed by Theoretical Extremists —President Spoke to New York Veterans

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 23.—On the eve of his forty day swing around the circle, on which Republican leaders expect him to define the issues for the campaign of 1912, President Taft tonight announced himself unalterably opposed to the "notrums" of reform which he declared "demagogues" and "theoretical extremists" have advanced for the solution of the problem of concentrated wealth in this country.

The President spoke to the veterans of the G. A. R., and in the struggle which they went through fifty years ago, and in the one which he said now confronts this nation he found a striking analogy, although the struggle of toay, he declared, will be bloodless. In the end, the President said, the peace-loving, straight-thinking people of the country will be victorious but the fight itself may be the longer because it will be fought out to the end without bloodshed and the roar of the battlefield."

"Higher aims for the betterment of society, these new evils growing out of the concentration of wealth and these combinations which properly controlled, are a great good in the reduction of the coast of production," said the President, "have ivited from the active minded of today suggestions of remedies that are so extreme that the medicine to many of us seems worse than the disease.

"Those who are charged with the responsibility, and sobered with the difficulties, find ourselves in the middle of the road resisting the tendency to socialism on the one hand and the inertia of reactionary contentment with present evils and ambition for greater concentration of financial power on the other; but we are gradually solving the problem. The present does not bring difficulties so great as you had to meet and overcome in '61. It may be longer because it will not involve violence, or the shedding of blood, but it must and will be solved peacefully and by the earnest effort of the level-headed, the practical and the courageous among us, and by reducing the influence of the demagogues and the theoretical extremists on the other hand and the reactionary influence of combinations of wealth on politics, and progress on the other. Its solution will be consistent with the preservation of our ancient institutions of personal liberty and private property under the constitution.

The message that you bear with your experience and your success to those of us struggling now with the problem is that, however dark at times the situation seems, so long as we retain in this country a god-fearing, sober, intelligent people, we can count in the long run upon their working out safely and sanely the problems set before them, no matter how many mistakes in the form of "nostrums" they may have been led into by the speciousness of half-baked theories of progress, no matter how often they may have been defeated in their purpose by the temporary success of undue and corrupt influence of concentrated wealth."

From the moment he reached Rochester, at 9 o'clock this morning until 9 tonight when he left for Beverly, the President was surrounded by veterans. He stood on a reviewing stand for more than two hours in the morning, while thousands of old soldiers, filed slowly by. Major General Frederick D. Grant, Major Edgerton, and Commander-in-Chief Gilman, of the G. A. R., stood with the President.

The President also discussed the general arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France which the Senate Foreign Relations Committee sought to amend and which part of that committee labelled "breeders of war." President Taft made an earnest plea for the ratification of the treaties by the Senators in the same shape as they were signed.

The President in referring to objections that have been adopted against the treaty brought up a question of interest to the South when he said:

"With refernce to the right to involve the United States in a controversy over the obligation of certain Southern States to pay bonds issued during reconstruction which have been repudiated, it is sufficient to say that such a question would not come within the treaty, for the treaty only affects cases hereafter arising, and the cases of the Southern bonds all arose years ago."

SHOT AND KILLED BY UNCLE.

Tragedy Follows Quarrels in Sick Room of Slayer's Mother.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 23.—Allen Trivett, aged 32, was shot and killed by his uncle, W. Pitt Ballew, at the latter's home at 2 o'clock this morning.

The killing, which was the outcome of frequent quarrels between Ballew and Trivett occurred in the sick room of Mrs. Martha Ballew, mother of the slayer and grandmother of his victim. The latter's mother was also present.

It is said that Ballew had been drinking and he claims that Trivett had threatened to "do" him. Five bullets were fired by Ballew, all lodging in various parts of Trivett's body.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 23.—The parade this afternoon, headed by the local battalion of militia, will end the 1911 reunion here of the South Carolina division, United Confederate Veterans, Major General B. H. Teague, of Aiken, was re-elected commander.

TO HOLD COTTON FOR 13 CENTS

Southern Senators and Representatives to Aid Growers.

WILL CAUSE LOSS TO SOUTH

State Banking Associations Urged to Resist Bear Movement—Financial Assistance Promised From the North.

Washington, Aug. 23.—After discussing what was referred to as the "threatening condition of the cotton market," a conference of Southern Senators and Representatives through a committee consisting of Senators Williams, of Mississippi, and Owen, of Oklahoma, and Representative Burleson, of Texas, decided to give formal advice to the farmers' organizations to "hold cotton for 13 cents." A committee will urge the State banking associations to co-operate against "the bearish movement of the speculators."

The committee which will advise farmers to hold for 13 cents, issued a statement which says in part:

"It seemed to be the opinion of all that there was a preconcerted effort being made, principally through the instrumentality of the speculative element of the New York Cotton Exchange, to break down the price of cotton. It was the opinion of all that the present statistical condition of cotton did not justify the lowness of present quotations and that the estimate of 15,000,000 bales was unjustified by any facts upon which prediction could be sanely based and that moreover, if a 15,000,000 bale crop were in sight the world's supplies still probably would fall short of the world's demand for cotton to the extent of more than 1,000,000 bales because of the exhaustion of the present visible supply of carried over spot cotton. In other words, that with a 15,000,000 American crop, the world's crop for 1911 would sum up only 25,000,000 with 14,000 of spindles creating an active demand for 26,000,000 bales. This opinion was based upon the latest advices from Egypt, India, China and other cotton producing countries.

"Information was given at the informal conference that assurance would be given to President Barrett or to Southern banks that ample funds from banks outside of the South could be had through the instrumentality of Southern financial institutions to be lent at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum to those who did not wish to dispose of their cotton at a sacrifice upon cotton warehouse statistics."

Among the participants in the conference were Senators Williams and Owen, Representative Underwood, of Alabama, Democratic leader of the House; Representative Heflin, of Alabama; Brantley and Hughes, of Georgia; Burleson and Beall, of Texas; Garrett, of Tennessee; Humphreys, of Mississippi, and Small, of North Carolina. A number of them are large cotton planters.

GERMAN CRUISER ARRIVES

In Buzzard's Bay for Torpedo Practice —Her Rights Questioned

New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 23.—The German cruiser Bremen arrived in Buzzard's Bay today and it was announced will conduct torpedo practice in the bay. Considerable local speculation has been caused as to the right of the foreign warship thus to indulge in military operations in United States waters.

The Bremen came into the bay during the early morning hours and anchored about two and a half miles east-southeast of "Dumpling Light," near the western entrance to the bay. A little later a tug was engaged from a local towing company to assist in the torpedo practice.

During the forenoon a launch in charge of Lieutenant Lutz Johan, came up to the city from the cruiser. In answer to questions Lieutenant Lutz Johan said: "We are here in Buzzard's Bay to have torpedo practice. I do not know how long we are going to stay here."

Questioned regarding the right of a foreign ship to engage in torpedo practice here the Lieutenant said: "I do not know whether or not we have a right to practice here. We are going to stay here at any rate."

TOGO AT REGINA.

Japanese Admiral Enjoyed His Stay in United States.

Regina, Sask., Aug. 23.—Admiral Togo arrived here at 10 o'clock tonight after a journey through the wheat fields of Canada.

"The United States government made me an honored guest through the States as far as Niagara," said the admiral, "and I am enjoying now the hospitality of one of Britain's greatest colonies. On account of my indifferent health I have not been able to accept any courtesies extended me by the Canadian government, but nevertheless, I am deeply grateful for the good will shown."

HONORS FOR ADMIRAL TOGO.

American Cruisers Are to Escort Japanese Liner Out to Sea.

Bremmerton, Wash., Aug. 23.—Final recognition by the government of the visit to America of Admiral Togo will be accorded by the navy, according to orders received at the navy yard here.

With the sailing for Japan on August 29 of the steamer Tamba Maru, which is to bear the Japanese naval hero homeward, the cruisers West Virginia and Colorado will form an escort and between these warships the Japanese merchantman will steam to sea. Upon their arrival in international waters, the cruisers will fire a farewell salute.

HACKENSCHMIDT RESTING.

Runs no Risk of Going Stale for Contest With Gotch.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Fearing that he might go stale before the time of his match with Gotch, George Hackenschmidt has decided that he will not do any more hard work until next Monday. For almost 12 weeks he has included hard mat work in his daily routine, and he believes that for the present he has had enough of that sort of training.

"On Monday," said Dr. Roller, one of the trainers, "Hack will go the limit on the mat with Americus, Koch and myself. Hack will not risk going stale. He would not risk a chance of having anything happen to his muscles to keep him from being in perfect condition to meet Gotch."

Prices on the result of the contest were posted for the first time yesterday. Gotch is made the favorite at four to five by one bookmaker. On Hockenschmidt he offers 6 to 5.

Not much money was posted yesterday, most of the bets accepted being at short odds. That the event will be a big betting one is not expected. According to local bookmakers, most of the money to be placed on the result will probably not come out until two or three days before the match. Requests from newspaper for free tickets have been filed from 14 States.

STIMSON TO TRAVEL.

Secretary of War Will Visit Army Posts of Country.

Washington, Aug. 23.—In order to become better acquainted with the military conditions of the country, Secretary of War Stimson, accompanied by Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, will start on a trip of inspection of army posts and fortifications September 15th. They will visit the seacoast defenses in the South and the Texas and Arizona frontier, the scene of the army's activity during the Mexican revolution. They will go as far west as Forts Huachuca and Apache, Ariz., returning to Washington by the way of Forts Riley and Leavonworth, Kan., where the service schools will be inspected.

ESTIMATES FOR ARMY.

Nearly Hundred Millions for Uncle Sam's Military Establishment.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The estimates for the army for the next fiscal year, it was announced today, would be in the aggregate about the same as the amount appropriated by Congress for the military establishment during the current year, which was $94,210,400.

Practically the only item increased will be for field artillery and ammunition. Officers of the army contend there is a sorry lack of field artillery. In this connection, Gen. Wood, chief of staff of the army, said in his last annual report to the Secretary of War:

"The existing deficiency in the field artillery constitutes one of the great menaces to our country in case of war.

If the regular army and organized military at war strength were called to arms today there would be a shortage of over 50 per cent. in the field artillery necessary to equip them. As this force would only represent a portion of the force called to arms in case of war with a first-class power, the gravity of the situation becomes at once apparent."

FRONTENAC HOTEL BURNED.

Famous Resort Hostelry at Thousand Islands is Destroyed.

Clayton, N. Y., Aug. 23.—The Frontenac Hotel, at the Thousand Islands, one of the finest Summer hotels in the country, caught fire at 10 o'clock tonight and at midnight there appeared little chance of saving the big six-story structure.

The fire started in the servants' quarters and spread quickly. In the hotel at the time were 160 guests from many sections of the country, the majority from New York City. The guests had ample time to escape after the first alarm and it is stated there was no loss of life.

The hotel was located on Round Island, in the St. Lawrence river. The property was principally owned by C. G. Emory, of New York, and is valued at $500,000.

UNDERWOOD SPEAKS.

Guest of Honor at Banquet in New York Last Night.

New York, N. Y., August 23.—"I come with a message from the Democracy of the country. We have kept our pledges, we have obeyed the will of our constituency." Such was the declaration of Oscar W. Underwood, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives, at the banquet given at the National Italian Democratic League here tonight. Members of the Ways and Means Committee were guests of honor, and Mr. Underwood delivered the principal address.

The President signed a tariff bill, Mr. Underwood declared, praised as "the best tariff ever," but hardly three months had passed before Republican orators were apologizing and begging on bended knee for a chance to revise their own handiwork.

"We have presented to the President of the United States," he said, "five great bills expressing our views as to what the tariff should be in the interests of the American people—and they would be a law today if they had not met his veto.

"The President of the United States without authority, without knowledge of anyone, negotiated a contract with a foreign nation. He negotiated a commercial pact with the Dminion of Canada.

"My friends we have presented to him the important schedules of the tariff bill, the wool, the cotton, the iron and steel, the chemical and the free list bills, and there are other schedules of importance, but he has vetoed every bill that we have sent him.

"We have temporarily closed our books. We do not propose to unduly agitate the business interests of this country. We wait with patience for the President's message next December. The President of the United States has failed to keep the promises of the Republican party to lower the tariff downward and through the Payne bill he failed to keep the President's pledges to the people.

"He vetoed the bill we need for the relief of the people of the United States, and I say to you candidly, my friends, that we do not propose to compromise this great issue. If the President is willing to give honest, fair and just relief to the American people the Democratic Congress is willing to uphold his hands as we did in the instance of the reciprocity pact. But if we are to be told to pass restrictive, prohibitive tariff bills, that are only a makeshift and not a revision downward, we will carry this great question to the American people and confidently await their verdict at the next general election."

GEN. WALKER APPROVES.

No Harm in Proposition for Vicksburg Park—His View.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 23.—Gen. C. Irvine Walker, of Charleston, on whom the supreme command of the United Confederate Veterans devolved by seniority, at the death recently of Gen. George W. Gordon, of Memphis, does not see any harm in the proposition to have Congress appropriate $50,000 for a monument at Vicksburg Park to the Confederate navy.

He said, when interviewed while in attendance on the State reunion here, that to his mind the action proposed would have no partisan significance and would involve no surrender of Southern pride nor any exhibition of Northern magnanimity.

"All of the much that has been done at Vicksburg Park has been done," said Gen. Walker, "with the strictest impartiality, so far as North and South are concerned. Confederate positions have been marked in the same fashion as Federal positions. It is not a sectional park.

"The only fault I would have to find in the measure offered would be in the dedication of such a monument to the Confederate navy. It is appropriate that the existing monument to which the proposed shaft should be complimentary, should be to the Federal navy, for the Federal navy did bear a large part in the operations at Vicksburg, but the Confederate forces engaged there were all military. If the monument is reared, it should be to the Confederate soldiers engaged."

Senator Tillman, interviewed as he passed through Columbia to visit Railroad Commissioner J. G. Richards, Jr., at Liberty Hill, agreed heartily with Gen. Walker.

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

First Case in Supreme Court—Mrs. Fleming Sues for Divorce—Corbitt Automobile Co., Chartered—Murder Charge.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 23.—The first case to be called for argument on appeal when the North Carolina Supreme Court convenes for the Fall term next week will be State vs. T. S. Davenport and others, for forcible trespass, which is really a criminal proceeding growing out of strenuous timber land litigation in Gates county between the Richmond Cedar Works Co., and the Roper Lumber Co.

The latter had sent agents upon certain timber lands the title to which was disputed by the Cedar Works Co., and the agents of the Roper Co., erected cabins and assumed possession. Then agents of the Richmond Cedar Works Co., sent a squad of lumber men on the lands and took forcible possession of the cabins and later burned them. Davenport led this "attack" on the Roper Co., agents. The criminal indictments of the Cedar Works agents followed. They were convicted and appealed to the Supreme Court. There are 32 exceptions from the trial below on which the appeal is based. The case will be called Tuesday, Monday being set aside for the examination of applicants for license to practice law.

The only other State appeal scheduled for the next week is State vs. Arthur Williams, convicted in Dare county, of betrayal under promise of marriage. He is under sentence of one year in the penitentiary and appeals to the Supreme Court.

A charter was issued today for the Corbitt Automobile Co., Henderson, capital $250,000 authorized and $25,000 subscribed by R. J. Corbitt, D. Y. Cooper and others for general automobile business.

Automatic fire-proof window shutters that are being placed on the Supreme Court and the agricultural buildings on sides where there are exposures to other buildings are so adjusted that they will set open until a fire starts in the building and approaches the windows when they will close automatically and aid in retaining the flames in the building. The special purpose is to prevent spread of flames from one of these buildings to the other.

Mrs. Percy B. Fleming takes the initiative in the matter of divorce proceedings in the sensational case of the family infelicities of herself and her husband, Percy B. Fleming, former teller in the State Treasury, that led up to the sensational habeas corpus proceedings last week over the custody of the Fleming children, Mrs. Fleming has just filed through Col. Jno. W. Hinsdale and H. E. Norris, her attorneys, the summons in divorce proceedings against her husband that is to involve release from bed and board. The complaint has not been filed, but the fact that in the habeas corpus proceedings she sets up the charge of drunkenness, the use of dope and cruelties that made life unendurable with him, and the fact that the charge of drunkenness and unfitness to have the training of the children was admitted by him in the trial, would indicate that the divorce proceedings she has brought will certainly include these charges. Mrs. Fleming and her sister, Miss Pauline Crouch, of Washington, are living in the Fleming residence on Person street.

Editor Clarence Poe, of the Progressive Farmer, announces that the Progressive Farmer has just purchased the Farmer's Union Guide, of Birmingham, Ala., and that it will be consolidated with the Starkville, Miss., edition of the Progressive Farmer, which is under the same editorial management as the Raleigh home office edition. The Farmers' Union Guide has 7,000 circulation and is the organ of the Farmers' Union of Alabama.

When the preliminary trial of L. J. Norris is called in the Raleigh police court Friday for the murder of J. B. Bissett, Col. J. C. L. Harris will appear with Solicitor H. E. Norris for the prosecution, he having been retained by relatives of the murdered man. Norris has been transferred to the county jail for more safe keeping. Mrs. Ada Yearby, the woman in the case, and Haywood Penny, the hackman, held as important witnesses, are locked still in the city prison.

The iron-clad regulation by the Raleigh public school committee effective this season for the first time that all children allowed in the public school, must be satisfactorily vaccinated, special examinations of the children, white and colored, by the city physician to see that they are ready for the opening of the schools September 11th.

The management of the North Carolina State Fair announces that Lincoln Beachey, the famous aviator, will be the "bird-man" to give the daily flights here in connection with the fair which will be in progress during the week of October 17th and 22nd. It was Beachey who, on August 20th, at Chicago, in connection with the great National aviation meet there ascended in his Curtiss biplane to a height of 11,578 feet, setting a new world's record.

W. A. Simpkins, of Raleigh, gets the distinction of marketing the first bale of cotton for this county. He sold it yesterday on the local market for 14 1-2 cents per pound. Its weight was 502 pounds and it was graded as good middling.

The Supreme Court of North Carolina is to be called upon to settle the contest between the Wake county commissioners and Dr. J. J. L. McCullers, involving the position of county superintendent of health and the legality of the legislative authority that Secretary W. S. Rankin, of the State Board of Health, exercised in the appointment of Dr. McCullers as Wake superintendent after the county authorities had failed to appoint the superintendent within the time specified by the Legislature when after which time the State Board could appoint arbitrarily. Judge Peebles refused the mandamus asked for against the Wake commissioners to require them to recognize his appointment and now counsel for Dr. McCullers is preparing an appeal to the Supreme Court.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST ASSEMBLY.

Name Changed to Skymont—Number of Improvements Contemplated.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 22.—At the meeting of the board of directors of the Southern Baptist Assembly at Blue Mont yesterday, several matters of importance were attended to. Judge Pritchard, the chairman of the executive committee, presided over the meeting and returned to Asheville yesterday afternoon. It was decided to change the name of the place from Blue Mont to Skymont, to put in waterworks and sewerage systems, and build a hotel to cost not less than $10,000 and not more than $30,000. The hotel is to be built by June 1, 1912, and the work is to begin as soon as possible. Resolutions were adopted to this effect.

In addition to these matters it was also decided to install electric lights. The sale of 300 lots was authorized at $300 each and an active canvass is to be begun at once by Judge J. C. Pritchard, Dr. B. W. Spillman and others to dispose of the lots throughout the United States.

Judge Pritchard stated that a great deal of progress has already been made at Bluemont. Two private hotels are now in operation and the company has erected a splendid auditorium with a seating capacity of from 1,200 to 1,400 people. It has also built administration, store and office buildings.

About 17 miles of streets have been constructed, a portion of which is in first-class condition. There are some 65 cottages, some of them costing as much as $1,500.

It is stated that Blue Mont has had the largest crowd of visitors this season since the opening, there being from 700 to 800 people. It is said that the hotels could not accommodate 50 per cent. of the applicants and that large numbers were kept away.

Judge Pritchard stated that it is the purpose of the promoters to make this place the assembly ground of the Baptists of the Southern States, and the canvass mentioned above is to be made to acquaint the people with the place and its many attractions.

The name was changed to Skymont on account of the difficulty the managers have had by having Blue Mont confused with other places. In telegraphing the characters used to represent Blue Mont and Black Mountain are practically the same and on this account the Southern Railway has refused to change the name of the place from Terrell to Blue Mont. Application was made today to the postoffice authorities to change the name to Skymont.

The hotel can be furnished with pure water by gravity line from a mountain stream near the house, the source of which is high enogh on the mountain side to force the water into the highest room in the building.

Tomorrow night the members of the First Baptist Church have arranged to give a farewell reception to the retiring pastor, Rev. W. M. Vines, who leaves September 1st to fill the pastorship of the First Baptist Church of St. Joseph, Mo. The reception is to be held at the church. An interesting programme is to be arranged. Judge J. C. Pritchard is to preside and there are to be several addresses by prominent men of the church and the city.

The delegates to the convention of the J. O. U. A. M., which is to be held at the Swannanoa-Berkeley Hotel, are already beginning to arrive. About 200 are now in the city and it is expected that there will be at least 500. The opening session is at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

WASHINGTON INDUSTRIES

Carolina Cooperage Co.—Buggy Factory—Tobacco Market Opens

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., Aug. 23.—The Carolina Cooperage Company of Washington, N. C., was farmally organized in this city several days ago. This company has bought the manufacturing plant of the Atlantic Manufacturing and Stave Company situated on the outskirts of this city, and will continue to operate this plant under the new name and new management. The entire plant has been thoroughly overhauled and new machinery put in, and began business on full time last Monday. The daily capacity of the plant will be about 40,000 staves per day and already enough contracts are in hand to run far into the Winter. The officers are B. G. Moss, president; L. W. Plummer, of Waverly, Va., vice president; J. H. Dewees, of Paoli, Pa., secretary and treasurer, and Mr. H. N. Blount, of this city, assistant secretary.

The Washington Buggy Company, one of the largest manufacturing plants of its kind in the State, expects to build another large building, in connection with the local plant. The new building will be 236x80 feet, two stories high, and will when completed, nearly double the daily capacity of the plant. This factory was built in this city about two years ago under the able management of Mr. Geo. Hackney, Jr., and has been a success from the beginning.

Washington's tobacco market will open for regular business on Monday, September 4th. The local warehouse is under the direction of the Farmer's Consolidated Tobacco Company, of Greenville, and the prospects are very good for the coming season.

The Daily News, Washington's local paper, which was burned out several weeks ago, expects to open up for business again about September 1st.

WHITEVILLE AFFAIRS

Early Cotton Doing Well—Cotton Mill Talk—Scuppernong Crop

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, Aug. 23.—Farmers in today say that while early cotton is doing nicely and well loaded with fruit, that which came up late is very unpromising, and while there is a large weed there are few bolls and squares. Corn is generally as fine as the land can produce.

Dr. W. H. Crowell has sent in his resignation as member of the city board of education, as his practice requires all his time. Dr. Crowell has done a magnificent work for the upbuilding of our school, and his resignation is regretted.

There is renewed talk of a cotton mill for Whiteville, and our people are in earnest about its building. Several prominent capitalists and mill men from Spartanburg, S. C., will visit Editor Gantt in the Fall, and it is hoped that they can be interested in assisting us in securing a mill.

Col. D. J. Lewis' handsome residence near the public square is rapidly going up and will be a modern and imposing structure.

The scuppernong crop will be very short this season, not much over half an average yield. Pecans are also a practical failure, though some trees are loaded. Scuppernongs are now ripening and the market will open next week.

Mayor Davis, in behalf of our town and county, have written to those gentlemen from Spartanburg who are to visit Columbus in October, extending them a cordial welcome and the freedom of the town and county. A programme will be arranged for their entertainment. This visit will mean much for the upbuilding of our county.

The dropping of the scheme to drain White Marsh is only temporary. It is thought best to have our Senators and Congressman secure a government engineer to make the preliminary survey, and then if practical the work will proceed. A gentleman proposes, if he can secure an option, at a fair price on all the marsh lands, to organize a company and have the work done by them. It would be an economy-making scheme.

Miss Mattie Lou Anderson, of Fayetteville, one of the most attractive as well as popular young women in the State, is the guest at the home of her uncle, Mr. R. H. Powell.

MAN FALLS 30 FEET.

Back and Left Ankle Badly Sprained at Fayetteville, N. C.

(Fayetteville Observer, 22nd.)

W. A. Malloy, a white laborer, met with a serious accident today at the Seminary building on Hay street, and it seems almost a miracle that he was not killed.

Malloy was standing on a platform on the walls of the building, which are being torn down, taking empty wheelbarrows as they were sent up on an elevator. In the act of taking off a barrow, the elevator suddenly shot down, and he leaned forward involuntarily as if to stop it, when he lost his balance and plunged over. His foot caught on the platform and he hung by that for an instant, but of course, it broke and he went down, turning over twice in the fall and landing on his back.

He was at once taken to Highsmith Hospital by Dr. J. V. McGougan, who found his back and left ankle had been severely sprained and his body bruised. He is still suffering somewhat, but is resting quietly. The doctor says that his injuries are not dangerous.

S.S.S. PERMANENTLY HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

No matter in what way an old sore or ulcer first commenced, whether from a wound, cut, or bruise, or from the ulceration of a wart, pimple or mole, or even if it came without apparent reason, the fact that it does not heal shows that bad blood is responsible for the place. While the circulation remains impure and polluted, the nerves and tissues of the flesh around the place are constantly being fed with unhealthy matter and the fibres are thus prevented from knitting together and healing. Purify the blood and the place MUST heal, its cause having been removed. S. S. S. cures old sores and chronic ulcers because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It removes from the circulation every taint or impurity, and so enriches the blood that it feeds and nourishes the tender, sensitive flesh, causes a knitting together of all fibrous tissue and thus heals the place naturally and permanently. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write and request it. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Says the Savannah News: "This seems to be a paper age. Not only are boats and houses and car wheels being made of paper, but even police clubs are being manufactured from that material. Miss Madeline Talmage Force is paying no attention to those persons who are trying to convince her that a girl of 19 should not marry a man of 47 years, on account of his money. In order to make her more determined than ever, Col. Jack Astor has made a pre-nuptial settlement of $2,000,000 upon Miss Force. From all acounts, the girl has decided to take the money instead of the advice.

NOT BEHIND THE SCENES

The Democratic Congressmen propose to do away with secret caucuses and open them to the representatives of the press. This will be the broadest kind of publicity, and since a Democratic caucus often takes on all the features of a war game, no newspaper man will miss it for anything. A real true-blue Democrat loves to speak out in meeting, be free and independent and show his colors. This thing of keeping things under cover, and sneaking around like a tenderfoot playing shut-mouth, is undemocratic and can't be stood for by men with the courage of their convictions. If there is anything that a hefty, strong-fed Democrat is in possession of it's the courage of his convictions and it is mighty few men that can make him "take water." What a Democrat stands for he stands for, and he'll do it even if he puts his foot in it. Why, we know Democrats who have been known to put their foot in it and keep their foot in it, and then stand right up and argue that "the water's fine." When two Democrats of that kind meet in a caucus and differ in the courage of their convictions, the newspaper men know that the proceedings will be worth reporting. Of course, when the caucus ceases to be secret the newspaper men will not miss a single one.

The only possible thing that would make a Democratic caucus dull is for Democrats to get uanimous and not take the caucus for a laundry in which the "dirty linen" of the party can be washed and aired. However, we are glad to state that during the recent extra session of Congress the Democrats have displayed remarkable unanimity and they have looked mighty good to the Insurgent Republicans. When any kind of Republican gets to liking Democrats it proves that they have been doing the nice thing, even if some of them are in the habit of "speaking their minds" at times.

Just as long as secrecy looks like something sneaking, Democrats will be down on the secret caucus, because it looks so Republican. The whole truth is that a Democratic caucus is the real thing, for it is only a conference to look after the people's interests. Whenever one of them is in session The Interests are uneasy, for they know that something is going wrong so far as they are concerned. In fact, Privilege would like to stick dynamite under a Democratic caucus and throw in the Insurgents at the psycological moment of the explosion. Of course, there may be some clashes in a Democratic caucus but no collusions and few collisions.

So far as the caucuses the past session have been concerned, our old friend Oscar Underwood, who hasn't got a thing to hide from anybody, declared in a statement a few days ago that nothing has taken place in a Democratic caucus during the extra session that the public wasn't welcome to know. Yet, the ban of secrecy leads to the suspicion that things were done which it was desired to keep from the public, and, therefore, in his opinion, it is advisable to get rid of that suspicion. If he has his way the caucuses of the future will be open and above board. He declared himself as in favor of doing away with secrecy when the people's business is under consideration. It really seems that the only time for secrecy and the use of the dark lantern is when something crooked is being framed up or legislation in favor of the Interests has to be fixed after the manner of the operations of the caucuses dominated by stand-patters. We should say that the secret caucus, star chamber methods have to go, and for that reason we think this from the Savannah Morning News is illuminative of the subject:

"Much of the legislation of which the people complain is due to the work done in the secret caucus. Particularly is this the case in municipal administrations. We venture the assertion that the movement toward commission government for cities would be much less strong if the secret caucus were unknown. Things are done in the secret caucus that the people wouldn't approve, and it is because it is known they wouldn't approve them that they are done in secret. It is being said that one of the reasons why Vardaman, of Mississippi, was chosen senator by such a large majority was that the people wanted to express their disapproval of the secret caucus. It will be recalled that Senator Percy was chosen in a secret caucus of the party and there was such an outcry that he expressed a willingness to have the question of the senatorship settled by the people, but the Legislature, having chosen him, his request for a primary wasn't granted. The refusal of a primary at that time is believed by many to have contributed largely to the election of Vardaman. The people seized upon the recent senatorial election to enter their protest against the secret caucus. The people want cleaner politics and cleaner methods in the administration of government. They want to know what their public servants are doing. And they have a right to know. They are paying the bills and it is for them that laws are made and administered. Why then should public servants assume that they have the right to shut out the public from their deliberations, that they should keep their proceedings secret? It looks as if the secert caucus would have to go, and when it does there will be less ground for complaining of public servants—less rottenness in politics."

It does seem like it is time for secretiveness, furtiveness, and backhandedness to play out. When we see a politician or a man walking around like a cat picking its way across a pile of cinders we feel like something is wrong. There is something ominous about secrecy, whispering, and tipping around that gets on people's nerves, and there is nothing so calculated to arouse suspcioin as to have public business considered in a corner as if a little calcium light would break up the game.

WIRELESS STATION HERE

Collector B. F. Keith, of the Port of Wilmington, has recognized the importance of having government wireless station at this port and has written a strong letter to the Treasury Department urging its need in the interest of shipping. Mr. C. StJ. Howard, of Baltimore, of the Bureau of Wireless Telegraph, inspector of wireless stations on Middle Atlantic and Gulf, has acknowledged receipt of Collector Keith's letter. He thanks Wilmington's active port official for his recommendations and informs him that they have been referred to the Treasury Department for consideration.

In his letter Collector Keith emphasizes the importance of Wilmington's shipping interests, calling attention to the port's rapid growth of commerce and the constant increase in the number of valuable American and foreign vessels engaged in carrying foreign and coastwise trade. Attention is called to the fact that during the last fiscal year, ended June 30th, Wilmington's foreign exports amounted to more than $20,000,000, while there were more than $3,500,000 of imports, which goes to show that shipping interests here are worth the government's serious attention.

In point of exports and imports, Wilmington is the second of all the ports on the Atlantic from Baltimore to Tampa, and not only does the increased shipping of the port demand a wireless station for its protection, but the coast conditions demand it. The conditions rendering it hazardous for shipping are that we have off the Cape Fear bar such a dangerous locality as Frying Pan Shoals, while further north and not far away are Lookout Shoals, and beyond them lies treacherous Hatteras, known the world over as the "Ship Graveyard."

These dangerous localities for shipping ought to be able to reach Wilmington by wireless, because this is the station of the Revenue Cutter Seminole which patrols the coast and lies in the port in readiness to aid vessels in distress or in the event of emergency. These distress calls are frequent, but many of them are too long delayed, whereas a wireless station would be a tremendous safeguard of shipping from Hatteras to Charleston, as it could be used for calling the cutter and tugs by ships in trouble at sea. The cutter has a wireless outfit and so do most of the coastwise and foreign vessels trading at this port. It would be a great satisfaction for shipmasters to be able to communicate with the port, and only the past week the need of a wireless station here has been amply demonstrated.

We have no doubt a wireless station at Wilmington would prove a great saving to the maritime interests generally, as well as to the port of Wilmington, and we believe the port will secure favorable consideration in this particular if the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce will back up Collector Keith in his efforts. He is to be commended for his forethought and interest in behalf of the port. In addition to the performance of his official duties he keeps out an eye for the general good of commerce and at the same time takes an active interest in the development of the port and the protection of its interests.

SOLDIERS DISOBEYED ORDERS.

The hospitality of Wilmington has been fully vindicated from the recent mistaken reference of Major D. P. McEachern, of Red Springs, but it will please the Confederate veterans and people of Wilmington to know that the explanation made by the Star a few days ago evidently has set the matter in the right light. This is the view the esteemed Greensboro Record takes of it:

"Major McEachern some time ago criticised Wilmington for its treatment of the military company from Red Springs when the encampment was held at Wrightsville in 1901, declaring that the old vets of that company were unable to get anything to eat. This statement surprised the Wilmington Star and it has been searching for a bill of particulars and has found out. This encampment was held in tents and Major London, weeks before the event, called attention to the meeting in these words—'We suggest and urge all veterans, as far as possible, attend the reunion in bodies and bring their own cooks along. All that the State will furnish will be tents, stoves and cooking utensils, and the food and its preparation will be looked after by those who attend. I urge that they make their preparations in advance so as to have no inconvenience or discomforts while in camp.' In other words, the arrangements were that the vets were to bring their own victuals, the tents, etc., to be furnished by the State. So it appears Major McEachern and his company went down without paying heed to general orders, expecting to be fed by Wilmington, as usual, when quite a different arrangement had been made."

We wouldn't like to say that so fine a soldier as Major McEachern and the splendid old soldiers of Red Springs "disobeyed orders," but it has been shown that orders were overlooked. It all grew out of a misapprehension of the facts, and so long as Major McEachern was under the impression that he was right he is not to blame. Wilmington's hospitality is always open to him and the Robeson county Confederates, and they should not fail to show up in line the next time the veterans come here as Wilmington's honored guests.

THOSE FORT CASWELL GUNS

Despite assurances from Washington that nothing but modern guns are to replace those being taken from Fort Caswell and sent to the Massachusetts coast, we are still a little leery as to the transfer and would counsel our representatives in Congress to keep well in mind the situation and see to it that local interests are protected in any exchange that may have been arranged by the War Department.

Solicitor N. A. Sinclair, of Fayetteville, was the first to discover the transfer and the officer ostensibly in charge of the work, told Mr. Sinclair that the guns to be substituted were of "cast iron" and were made about 1891. Mr. Sinclair, as any patriotic North Carolinian should have done, called the attention of the public to the apparent injustice being done the local fortification and Senator Simmons took up the matter with the proper authorities in Washington. We sincerely hope that the assurances from Washington that only modern guns are to replace those being removed, is trustworthy and authoritative, but we repeat the situation is well together on revising the wool

CURRENT COMMENT.

The announcement that Evelyn Thaw needs money can hardly be regarded as an item of news. That complaint has been chronic with Evelyn ever since she Thawt she had a "cinch" for the rest of her life.—Asheville Citizen.

The Treasury Department is looking forward to the speedy elimination of some 30 custom houses at which the receipts are far less than the costs of collections. For years these custom houses have been carried principally because they afforded patronage for faithful party workers. The service will not suffer when the stations are wiped out and the business is consolidated at the most important points.—Savannah News.

President Taft is contemplating a run across the continent for the purpose of aiding in breaking ground for the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco. Of course, this jaunt will be without political significance, unless the opportunity is presented. This trip is to be separate from the one outlined some time ago, in which it is predicted the President calculates to make insurgent fur fly in more than one State.—Pittsburg Post.

Congressman Gudger, of North Carolina, and an Ohio member were nibbling crackers and sipping milk in the House restaurant the other day, when Mr. Gudger said: "I'll bet you a cigar I can tell in two guesses who is speaking in the Senate right now." The Ohio man took him up, and the North Carolinian guessed that it was either Cummins or Heyburn. They went into the Senate chamber, and sure enough, there was old Heyburn braying again.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

We, meaning the consuming public, are continually talking about the high cost of living, and that it is high cannot be questioned. How much of this is our own fault? It has been stated by an authority that the amount of food that we throw away would feed the whole French nation. The French people would not throw away this food but would "make it over" into palatable and nutritious dishes. The French are as famous for their frugality as we are notorious for our wastefulness, That is why France, per capita, is one of the richest nations in the world. She not only earns, but saves.—Savannah News.

Well, it seems there is nothing new under the sun. The Chronicle thought it had made a new discovery in the use of salt for laying dust on the roads, but here comes the Greenwood, S. C., Index knocking the props from under us. "Our esteemed and wide-awake friend, the Charlotte Chronicle," it says, "is heralding a new discovery, on the way from France, the use of salt on the public roads to keep down dust. It may be a new wrinkle and it may be just coming from France, but all the same Mr. S. O. Harvey here was using the process in his livery stable and lot a year ago for that very purpose to keep down dust. It worked all right." Again we call the attention of our esteemed friend and good roads builder, Mr. D. Parks Hutchison, to the possibilities of the salt sack.—Charlotte Chronicle.

There will be a mass meeting at the assembly hall of the Selwyn Hotel tonight under the auspices of the Greater Charlotte Club, the object of which will be the discussion and formulation of plans for promoting the industrial development of Charlotte. The subject of "New Industries," which has been advertised as the subject for the meeting tonight has awakened an interest that unmistakably reveals the fact that Charlotte business men are alive to this important issue, if there was any doubt of it before. The announcement that a tangible plan to secure new industries has been formulated and is to be presented is going to draw out a large number of members and every indication points to a good attendance, all anxious to learn what is to be offered. The meeting tonight should be the beginning of big things. There are great possibilities, the harvest is ripe—the city has unlimited opportunities—and if the laborers do not make themselves scarce great results will be accomplished.—Charlotte Chronicle, Aug. 22.

SEARCH FOR MRS. EDISON.

Railroad Officials at Minneapolis Unable to Locate Her.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 23.—While Thomas Edison, the American inventor is discussing aviation with scientists in Paris, Minneapolis officials of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway are searching for Mrs. Edison. Mr. Edison desires to communicate with his wife and the letters he sent from the French capital to Detroit, where Mrs. Edison had been visiting, did not reach her.

Mrs. Edison started for the Pacific coast shortly after her husband sailed for Paris. She left her traveling address with Assistant General Passenger Agent Huston, of the Michigan Central Railroad, who in turn faithfully forwarded the mail.

A few days ago mail in bunches began to return to the company's offices in Detroit marked "not here."

Vigorous efforts on the part of Michigan Central officials to locate Mrs. Edison have failed. Today the passenger department of the Soo road was importuned to locate the wife of the inventor.

MARTIN GOES TO THE ROADS

Negro Who Tried to Sell Stolen Tobacco Gets 18 Months—Many Other Cases Tried Yesterday Morning.

Captured only the day before, Joe Martin, colored, received a total of 18 months on the county roads yesterday morning in the Recorder's court, getting 12 months on a charge of larceny and six months on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Martin is the negro who was arrested on Market street Tuesday afternoon by Hall Officer Joe Lane on a warrant charging him with larceny. When placed under arrest he threw his hand around to his hip pocket, whereupon the officer grabbed his arm and held it while he went through his pocket, finding a 32-calibre Smith & Wesson revolver in one of them. The revolver was afterwards identified as the one stolen some time ago from Mr. S. D. Bryant, who conducts a store in the northern part of the city. Martin was driving a borrowed huckster's cart and in the fish box of this cart were found four caddies of chewing tobacco, consigned from Butler Bros., at Reidsville, to W. H. Walker & Co., of Town Creek. The police were informed by the Partin Grocery Company that a negro had been in their store and attempted to sell some tobacco, and it was while acting upon this information that they made the arrest. The evidence introduced yesterday showed that Martin had stolen the tobacco from the Atlantic Coast Line warehouses, and that he was attempting to sell it when caught. It is believed that he had a confederate who borrowed the cart for him, and who probably loaned him the pistol he was carrying. Yesterday morning about 4:30 o'clock, James Sanders, colored, was arrested on a warrant charging him with vagrancy. He is believed to be Martin's confederate, and is being held while the police work up the case against him.

On the charge of carrying a concealed weapon Martin was sentenced to six months on the county roads, and on the larceny charge he was given sentence of 12 months, which he is to begin serving upon the expiration of the first term.

Tom Wright and Henry Leonard were given preliminary hearing and committed to jail under $200 bond each to await trial at the next term of Superior Court on a charge of the larceny of $80 from Mr. H. High at his store at 10th and Castle streets some time ago, the Recorder's court not having jurisdiction in a larceny case involving over $20.

Tolston Bailey, Jr., received sentence of six months on the county roads for the larceny of a garden hose. The negro seems to have a mania for stealing garden hose, having been in the court on a similar charge once before.

Augusta White, colored, will be a guest on the county farm for a period of 30 days for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Judgment was suspended upon Emma Raimon, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, on condition that she pay the costs. Fleet Backus, colored, was found not guilty of a charge of disorderly conduct. A nol pros was taken in the case against Mr. J. O. Brock, charged with violating the sidewalk ordinance.

In the case charging William McKae, colored, with an assault with a deadly weapon, a nol pros was taken, but another warrant was issued charging him and Bertha Larkins, colored, with an affray. Bertha received a fine of $5 and costs and McKae was taxed $10 and costs.

Maria Wilson, colored, charged with the larceny of a feather pillow, was found not guilty. Emma Hall, Ed Patrick, Annie Bocker, Hattie Lee, Neal Larkins, Alice McRae and Sarah Morisey, all colored, were charged with violating the ordinance requiring a license tag on dogs. A nol pros was taken in each case.

Peter Hill, colored, was charged with violating the dog ordinance. Judgment was suspended on payment of the costs and on condition that he provide a tag for his canine.

In addition to the above cases there were several drunks tried at yesterday's session of the county tribunal, making it almost a record breaking docket.

SEMINOLE RETURNS TO PORT.

Went to Assistance of British Steamer Near Core Bank.

The revenue cutter Seminole returned to port yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, after a trip to a point about 12 miles north of Cape Lookout, where she went Monday in response to a message telling of the British steamer Mistor being aground there.

When the Seminole reached the Mistor Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, as she lay ashore at a point two miles off the Core Bank Life Saving Station, it was found that the wrecking tug Rescue, of the Merritt & Chapman Co., was already on the scene, and also the revenue cutter Onondaga, which is stationed at Norfolk. The tug Rescue had already closed a contract with the master of the steamer to pull her off, and was then waiting the arrival of another of the company's tugs, which had been notified. The Seminole offered any assistance she might be able to render and at 5 P. M. started on the return trip.

The steamer Mistor, 1,923 tons, was in charge of Capt. Knudson and was bound from Cuba to New York. She became confused as to certain lights along the coast and ran in too close, going ashore.

When the Seminole received word here Monday morning that the steamer was in distress she had just returned from a trip and could not get out until she had coaled up again. The Onandaga at Norfolk was notified and she started at once for Core Bank. The Seminole sailed at 7 P. M. Monday and encountered high seas and a heavy wind all the way.

YOUNG MAN SHOOTS HIMSELF

While Walking With Friends on Trestle at Wrightsville Beach, M. R. Walker Committed Suicide—Fell Into Sound

Mr. M. R. Walker, a white man, 27 year old, of Burgaw, superintendent of a saw mill on the Northeast branch of the Cape Fear river, owned and operated by Mr. J. A. Rowe, committed suicide last midnight by shooting himself on the trestle across Banks Channel, Wrightsville Beach. His body fell over into the water and has not yet been recovered, and it is not probable that it will as the tide was receding very rapidly at the time. With Mr. Walker at the time were Mr. Rowe and Mr. L. Turner, also of Burgaw, but neither saw the actual shooting.

Mr. Rowe was standing a few feet away under an electric light whither he had just gone to read a note handed to him by Walker, a few seconds before, who said that it was a business letter. Turner is said to have been looking in some other direction and did not look around until he heard the report of the pistol. Mr. Rowe did not get to read the note before he heard the crack of the revolver, and, looking around quickly, he saw Walker as he fell over into the water below. No word was uttered by Walker just preceding, at the time or just after firing the shot, so far as could be ascertained last night, but it was stated by Mr. Turner that only a few moments before Walker was seated stooped over with his face in his hands and appeared to be greatly worried over something.

The note was signed by Walker himself and was directed to Mr. Rowe. It is stated that the note was to the effect that the writer was tired of living the life he had been living and that he preferred death rather than to live.

Back of it all is said to have been an unhappy love affair. Some one said that Walker had been heard to remark that a certain young woman with whom he had been keeping company was too good for him and the remark was made in a way that indicated that he had promised to marry her.

It was stated that body was not seen to rise to the surface. Mr. Rowe has a cottage on the Hammocks and Messrs. Walker and Turner were his guests over night, in fact Walker had been with him since Tuesday. They went out upon the trestle, it was said by Mr. Turner, in order to cool off. As soon as they realized what had happened, Mr. Rowe started at once across the trestle, to Wrightsville Sound afoot, arriving there a few minutes before 2 o'clock this morning. He telephoned for an automobile to bring him to the city so he could make report to the officers. Mr. Turner went to the pumping station of the Beach Water Co., on the Hammocks and only a short distance from the scene of the tragedy.

J. A. Smith, who is in charge of the pumping station at night, gave The Star its information of the affair, he transmitting the statement of Mr. Turner. Mr. Smith said that he himself heard the report of the pistol, but did not have an opportunity to see the man. Walker was about the center of the trestle, standing on the Oceanic hotel side of the structure at the time he fired the fatal shot.

Police headquarters was notified shortly before 2 o'clock and an officer went to the Sound in the automobile sent down for Mr. Rowe. It was stated that Mr. Rowe will go to Burgaw on the 3:40 o'clock train this morning to inform the young man's people of the sad occurrence and will probably return on the morning train. It was said that Mr. Rowe and Mr. Walker were brothers-in-law. Mr. Mr. Walker has been superintendent for Mr. Rowe for about two years. The young man leaves a mother and other relatives who live near Burgaw.

MR. C. M. TURBEVILLE DEAD

Passed Away Rather Suddenly in the County Tuesday Afternoon

Mr. C. M. Turbeville, a well-known citizen of the county, died rather suddenly Tuesday afternoon at the home of his brother, Mr. James Turbeville, about five miles south of the city, following a stroke of paralysis, which he suffered Monday. Up to this time he had been in his usual good health. As soon as he was stricken it was realized that his condition was serious and that he had but small chance of recovery. Mr. Turbeville was 69 years old and besides his brother he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary Prosser and Mrs. Susana Flowers, of Florence county, South Carolina. The sisters were unable to attend the funeral service, which was held at the residence of Mr. James Turbeville at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The interment was in the family burying ground. Mr. Turbeville was a Confederate veteran and a man held in the highest esteem by all within the circle of his acquaintance. The bereaved have the sympathy of many friends. Mr. Turbeville's wife preceded him to the grave several years ago.

ANOTHER MURDER PROBABLY

Negro Dies at Hospital From Effects of Blow on Head, and City Officials Are at Work on the Case Promptly.

Through the insistence of Dr. John Thames, assistant city superintendent of health, that a death certificate be fully filled out before being filed away in the records of the health department, what is probably another murder came to light yesterday, and Phillister King, colored, is now in jail, formally charged with the killing of Abraham Ford, also colored.

In connection with the discovery of the supposed crime yesterday some criticism has been placed upon the management of the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where the death of Ford occurred Sunday night. The police and health department officials claim that Ford came to his death from the effects of a blow on the head delivered by the negro, King, and they are indignant that no report of the matter was made by the hospital authorities to the coroner of the county or to the police department.

Ford boarded at the home of Ova Holly, colored, at No. 1216 North Second street. The woman stated yesterday that Ford came to the house last Tuesday afternoon from Fourth and Ann streets, where he was employed, and that he appeared to be in great pain from the effects of a blow over the head with a board, which he said he had received in an altercation with another negro. She stated that there was a cut over one eye and a large knot on his forehead. He went to the hospital that night, but returned the next day, although he seemed to be worse than on the day before.

Dr. J. T. Schonwald was called in and prescribed for Ford, but he continued to grow worse and Saturday evening the ambulance was summoned and he was again taken to the hospital. She stated that she heard Sunday night that the man was dead. Ford, she said, told her that a tall, ginger cake colored negro was the man who had struck him.

The body of Ford was turned over to Mr. W. E. Yopp's undertaking establishment to be prepared for shipment to Wake Forest College, for dissecting purposes. When the undertaker applied to the health department for a permit for shipment of the remains Dr. Thames insisted that the death certificate was incomplete in its statement as to the cause of death, and that it must be more specific.

The death certificate was signed by Dr. Ralph B. Seem, surgeon in charge of the hospital, and gave meningitis as the cause of death. The blank provided for the statement of contributory causes was not filled out, and as there are several forms of this disease, Dr. Thames was insistent that the form of which Ford died be specified. One form is caused by violence, and when Dr. Seem was communicated with he stated that Ford might have died from meningitis caused by a blow on the head. He would not express himself positively on this point, but stated that when Ford was first brought to the hospital he gave evidence of having been struck over the head with something.

Upon learning that the body had been shipped to Wake Forest Chief of Police Fowler notified Mayor J. D. Smith, who is acting as head of the department of public safety, in the absence from the city for a day or two of Councilman B. C. Moore.

Mayor Smith immediately held a conference with Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, and Acting City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau, and it was decided to wire the authorities at Wake Forest to ship the body back to Wilmington that it might be examined. This was done, although up to a late hour last night Mayor Smith had received no reply from Wake Forest.

In the meantime, the police department nad been busy, and upon the information furnished by the Holly woman a warrant was sworn out and turned over to Hall Officer Joseph S. Lane, who arrested King at 17th and Market streets about 4 o'clock. He was brought to police headquarters and upon being questioned admitted having had a quarrel with Ford and also that he struck the latter over the head with a short block of wood, but declared that it was with no intention of doing him bodily harm. He was committed to jail to await further developments in the case.

In every department of the city government yesterday the failure of the hospital authorities in not reporting the matter was the chief topic of the day, and criticisms were freely expressed. Other recent matters of disagreement between city and hospital were recalled and complaint was also forthcoming from the police department in regard to the difficulty of obtaining information about such cases as they may have an interest in.

While it is not known for a certainty it is possible that some protest to the hospital authorities may be made. Acting City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau was in conference with the Mayor and Coroner yesterday.

As the city makes a monthly appropriation of $500 to the hospital the city officials feel that they are justified in making criticisms of conditions there. They declare that there should be co-operation between the city health department and the hospital and that the officers of the health department have made every effort to co-operate, but that the management of the hospital has steadfastly refused to heed any suggestions in this regard and has held entirely aloof from the city.

More Money Than Needed.

The generous citizens of Wilmington contributed for the entertainment of the old soldiers during the reunion here a few weeks ago just one-third more money than was required to provide for the veterans the best accommodations ever given at a similar meeting. The committee is returning the contributors 33 1-3 per cent. of the amount of their subscriptions through Col. Walker Taylor, who acted as treasurer.

MRS. G. F. SEITTER PASSES

Wife of Wilmington Tailor Dies from Effects of Injuries Sustained in Fall from Two-Story Window Some Days Ago

Apparently fast convalescing from injuries sustained in a fall from a two-story window to the paved sidewalk 20 feet below, Mrs. G. F. Seitter suffered a relapse Tuesday night and grew rapidly worse until she succumbed yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at her home, No. 202 Princess street.

Sunday morning, August 13th, Mrs. Seitter arose, presumably to obtain relief from the oppressive heat, about 3 o'clock and sat on the window sill of her apartment on the second floor of the building on the northeast corner of Second and Princess streets. It is thought that she either lost her balance or dropped off to sleep and fell to the pavement about 20 feet below. Her cries were heard by Assistant Chief of Police C. W. Woolard, who was near the spot, and he went ot her at once. Mr. Seitter was asleep in the adpartment upstairs, and Captain Woolard went up and notified him of his wife's accident. He came down and carried her upstairs. Medical aid was summoned and when it was learned that Mrs. Seitter's injuries were of a serious nature the ambulance was called and she was carried to the James Walker Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Seitter remained at the hospital until Saturday night last, when she was taken to her home. Her condition was apparently improving all the time and it was expected that it would only be a matter of time until she would be completely recovered. However, she grw suddenly worse Tuesday night and continud to sink rapidly. Early yesterday morning her death was expected at any moment but she clung to life until 4 o'clock, when she passed away.

Mrs. Seitter is survived by her husband and two sons, Fred and Dallman, also by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Leslie, of Wilmington, and three brothers, Mr. Charles Leslie, of this city, and Messrs. Alex. and Asa Leslie, who live elsewhere.

The funeral will be held from the home, 202 Princess street, this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, thence to St. Matthew's Lutheran church at 4 o'clock. Rev. H. E. Beatty, pastor of St. Matthew's church, will conduct the services. Interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

Mrs. Seitter was the wife of Mr. G. F. Seitter, a well-known tailor of the city. Mr. Seitter has made Wilmington his home for 20 years and has many friends who will deeply sympathize with him and his family in their bereavement.

LARGE CROWD AT BEACH

Both Hotels Have Number of Guests —Fishing is Fine.

While there is nothing like the number of guests who were at the resort hotels during the month of July and the first part of August there are, nevertheless, a large number of visitors on Wrigthsville Beach and, although the hotels will close next week, there will most likely be many to remain several weeks later than for any previous year. The Seashore Hotel will be open on the European plan during the month of September. One wing of the hotel will be used for roomers and th gusts may secure their meals at the hotel cafe just across the suburban car line from the hotel. Several families and other guests will remain at the hotel until the latter part of the month.

There is no better time of the year than this to visit the resort. Many regard this as the best time of the year to spend their vacation on the beach. Those who spend the early Fall at the resort find more real enjoyment than is possible in the middle of the season. A number of guests arrived yesterday at both the Seashore and Oceanic hotels and not a few announced that they would spend several weeks.

The fishing at the beach is already getting better and any number of parties go out each day. They are having splendid luck, too. After next Monday the pier at the Seashore Hotel will be open to the public and there is said to be no better fishing ground at the resort than in front of the hotel. A competent man will be in charge to furnish bait and tackle.

Oyster roasts are being served at the beach and fine business is promised in this during the Fall and Winter months at all the cafes which keep open. Several delightful oyster roasts parties have been given and were by no means the least enjoyable of the many social affairs of the season at the resort.

The managers of both hotels seem to be well pleased with the fine patronage received this season. A big portion of the time the hotels had about as many as they could accommodate. The outlook for next season is indeed bright.

Attention was called yesterday to the fact that there has not occurred a single drowning at the beach this season and only one person had anything like a narrow escape. It is hoped that this record will be maintained until the close of the season. Extra precaution was taken this year to protect the bathers and this probably is the reason that there has been no loss of life as yet.

FINAL PERFORMANCE TODAY

Matinee at Crystal Palace Tsis Afternoon — Reduced Prices

At the Crystal Palace theatre this afternoon the final performance of the operetta "Little Red Riding Hood" will be given in the form of a matinee, with the price reduced to 10 cents for everyone. The full performance will be given, including the special features by the children and several violin solos by Miss Hazel Langenberg, whose playing has been one of the features of the little opera.

Both performances last night were played to large audiences, and the little actors and actresses were heartily applauded for the excellent way in which they handled their parts. Miss Langenberg's solos were also much enjoyed.

St. Paul's Church Secures North Carolina Man as Pastor.

Many Wilmingtonians, Lutherans especially, will be interested in the announcement that St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Columbia, S. C., has secured Rev. H. A. McCullogh, of Albemarle, N. C., as pastor of the church. The pastorate of this church was tendered to Rev. W. A. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Church, this city, some months ago, but after careful and prayerful consideration Mr. Snyder announced that he would remain in Wilmington, where he is so highly esteemed and admired. The Columbia State of yesterday contained the following relative to Mr. McCullough's acceptance of the call:

"Rev. H. A. McCullough, of Albemarle, N. C., has accepted the call extended him several weeks ago by St. Paul's Lutheran Church to become the pastor of the congregation. A letter was received yesterday from Mr. McCullough stating that he had resigned the pastorship of the First Lutheran Church at Albemarle, to take effect the last of September, and that he would assume the duties of St. Paul's pastorate October 1st.

"Mr. McCullough is a South Carolinian, his parental home being near Newberry. He is a graduate of Newberry college in the class of 1892 and of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in 1895. He began his ministerial work in the Fall of 1895 at Concord, N. C., and since that time he has served other pastorates successfully and efficiently both in this State and North Carolina. In his present field he has succeeded in a very short time in building up a weak pastorate into a strong and influential congregation and erecting a splendid and elegantly furnished church.

"St. Paul's church is glad that an efficient pastor has been secured to fill the vacancy which has existed since last December."

Children Made It Hot for Thief.

While Recorder John J. Furlong and Clerk of the Recorder's Court Fred T. Skipper were out driving yesterday afternoon they witnessed a race between a large number of children and a negro. The children were pursuing the negro out McRae street and as they neared the buggy in which Messrs. Skipper and Furlong were riding, one of the boys in the crowd threw a brick and hit the negro on the shoulder with it. They later learned that the negro had entered a store and when a customer deposited 50 cents on the counter in payment of some goods, the negro grabbed the money and fled, with the children in pursuit. They did not learn the result of the chase.

Navigation of the River.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer says: "Yesterday we mentioned that the river was rising rapidly. Last night, however, it fell almost as rapidly, having gone down one and a half feet. There must have been a heavy storm up country somewhere, which temporarily swelled the creeks emptying into the Cape Fear. The steamer City of Fayetteville arrived from Wilmington last night. She will clear today for the return trip."

PROGRESIVE ROSEBORO

Several Handsome New Store Buildings Are Being Erected

Mr. H. E. Bonitz, the well-known architect, who has just returned from a visit to Roseboro, a hustling little town on the A. & Y. railroad, said yesterday that there is much building going on there now, especially in the business district, where buildings are being erected to take the place of those destroyed by fire some months ago. The buildings are all of brick and would do credit to a much larger place. An even dozen brick stores are now in course of construction. Mr. Bonitz said that work was begun Monday on a handsome $12,000 store building for Howell & Starlings The building has a frontage of 104 feet and a depth of 80 feet and is two stories high. It will have a handsome plate glass front. Three store rooms are provided, but it is likely that all will be used by the owners for the conduct of their mercantile business. Plans for this building were drawn by Mr. Bonitz.

The contract for the erection of an $8,000 graded school building at Page's Mill, S. C., was let by Mr. Bonitz last Saturday to Mr. D. K. Cecil, of Lexington, N. C., and the contract for a new Baptist church at the same place was let to Mr. J. W. Robinson, of Mullins, S. C., the edifice to cost about $6,700.

COMMITMENT FOR NEGROES.

Received Only Yesterday From Clerk of Superior Court of Pender.

News of the respite of Dick Gause, colored, sentenced to death for murder committed in this city and convicted at a recent term of Superior Court in Pender county, was carried in the Star's Raleigh dispatches yesterday morning. Gause is in jail here as is also the negro Tisdale sentenced to te penitentiary as an accomplice in the killing. Sheriff Cowan stated yesterday that the negroes would have been sent to the penitentiary long ago, but only last night by the 7 o'clock mail did he receive the commitment for the negroes from the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pender. In view of the respite granted Gause, he will probably be confined further in the jail here, pending the Governor's action on the case, but Tisdale will be sent in a few days to Raleigh to begin his sentence in the State prison.

Beachey to Visit Raleigh

Friends and admirers in this city of Mr. Lincoln Beachey, the famous aviator, who made a sensational flight over the city in his Curtiss bi-plane during the aviation meet in this city some months ago, will be interested to know that he will fly each day during the State Fair at Raleigh this Fall. Beachey has just broken all world's records for altitude flights by ascending 11,578 feet at the Chicago Aviation Meet. He was the idol of the thousands who witnessed the daily flights on the grounds of the Wilmington Driving Association during the meet last Spring and no doubt many Wilmingtonians will go to the State Fair for the purpose of witnessing further exhibitions of the birdman.

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guess work in this evidence of Thos. SECOND LYCEUM COURSE

Arranged by the Boys' Brigade for the Fall and Winter.

Canvass for subscriptions to Boys' Brigade Lyceum Course for the approaching season has been begun by Mr. Chas Dushan, secretary of the organization, and he is having no trouble disposing of season tickets. The course last year was a decided success and encouraged Mr. Dushan to provide even more expensive attractions for this season with every assurance that each obligation will be more than met. It has been decided to sell about 125 tickets in excess of the number sold last year, or about 400. The tickets are sold for $2.50 for the six entertainments. Immediately after the close of the last course Mr Dushan disposed of probably 200 season tickets—a number sufficient to warrant him in engaging the best attractions botainable for this season. The first attraction this year will be some time in October and will be Mr. William Sterling Battis, said to be the greatest living interpreter of Dickens. Next will come the Harmony Concert Co., then the Good Fellows Singers, the Neil Litchfield Trio, the Bostonia Sextette Club, and Mr. Karl Jansen, the well-known Swedish entertainer.

SHE WILL ADVISE YOU ON EVERYTHING OF INTEREST TO YOU.

From your hand Madam Eldon will make known such valuable information and advice, which, if heeded, will make you realize marked degrees of success.

The science of palmistry is not complex, nor are its laws difficult of comprehension. They depend upon the quality of the mental faculties, the peculiar physiological construction of the mind. The hand is man's most valuable servant. It is the means of performance or execution of the duties of life in which he is engaged. Between the hand and the subconscious mind there exists, through the nerves, a perfect system of communication, rendering the hand one of the greatest nerve centers of the human body. Therefore, every action of the brain, and every sensation experienced sets in action some series of nerves that would impress certain markings or lines on the hand, by means of which Madam Eldon is able to interpret the many valuable information about one's character, talents, and the story of your life is like reading an open book. Will remain in Wilmington but a few days more. Corner Third and Princess, Upsairs.

Diadems.

The diadems now worn by royalty and the aristocracy of both sexes was originally a sort of ribbon or fillet, woven of silk, thread or wool, more or less broad. It was tied round the temples and forehead, the two ends being knotted behind and let fall on the neck. It was usually white and quite plain, though sometimes embroidered with gold and set with pearls and precious stones. Pliny relates that Bacchus was the first inventor of the diadem. Athenaeus says that topers first made use of it to preserve themselves from the fumes of wine by tying it tight around their heads and that it long afterward came to be a royal ornament.—London Spectator.

GRATEFUL TO MR. OVERMAN.

Maritime and Commercial Interests Here are Well Pleased.

The commercial and maritime interests at Wilmington were delighted yesterday with the news from Senator Lee S. Overman that he had been successful in his effort to have the new lightship located on the "Knuckle," where they were very desirous of having it located instead of at some more remote point where it would have been practically useless to shipping along this coast, and all expressed great gratitude to Mr. Overman for his efforts in their behalf. With a less able man at the helm, when practically the entire administrative machinery was hostile, the final culmination of the long and persistent fight might have been far different and far less satisfactory. To the Board of Commissioners of Navigation and Pilotage of the Cape Fear is also due much credit for marshaling the facts that were a powerful weapon in the hands of Mr. Overman. Mr. James Sprunt, chairman of the Board, and Capt. John W. Harper, vice chairman, were very diligent in their efforts and abundant success has now rewarded their effort through the popular and influential Junior Senator from North Carolina.

ROBERY TUESDAY NIGHT

Store of Baggett Bros. Entered and Cigars Taken

Report was made to the police department yesterday morning of a burglary that occurred Tuesday night at Baggett Bro's., grocery store at 113 South Front street. It was stated that the robbers entered through the back door which they opened by springing, and that the only article that was missed was a box of cigars. The cash register had been moved though, and the fact that it had been tampered with but not opened led the proprietors of the store to believe that the thieves were frightened away in some manner.

The police have no clue to the identity of the burglars, unless the fact they took the cigars only may be considered as such. In practically all of the robberies that have been committed recently, smoking goods have been missed.

FRANCE AND MOROCCO.

Willing to Settle With Germany on Terms of Moderation.

Paris, Aug. 23.—A cautious and firm semi-official note has been issued by the government relative to negotiations with Germany, saying:

"Ambassador Cambon will return to Berlin toward the end of August, probably about the 28th. Meantime he will have in Paris several conferences with the premier, minister of foreign affairs and minister of colonies, concerning the subjects of his conversations with Herr Von Kiderlen-Waechter (the German minister of foreign affairs).

"Without endeavoring to prejudice the precise results, it is believed that the difficulties will find a solution. It is, however, true that such solution will depend on two conditions: First, that the rights of France in Morocco be recognized without diminution on the part of Germany, and regulated definitely in a manner to avoid all future complications; and second, that Germany reduce her territorial desires in French Congo, which appear to be manifestly excessive."

And Moderately Warm Weather, Says Bureau Bulletin.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Moderately warm weather and continued lack of the rainfall in most districts were features of the weather of the week just ended, according to the national weekly bulletin of the weather bureau issued yesterday.

In the cotton growing States, the continuation of frequent showers in the central portion of the belt, with much cloudy weather, was generally unfavorable, in the eastern portions local showers and sunshine prevailed and conditions were as a rule favorable although more rain is needed in portions of Georgia and the Carolinas.

In the cotton growing States west of the Mississippi the week continued unusually warm. Heavy rains occurred in portions of Arkansas and there were some local showers in Northern and Eastern Texas, but over the greater part of that State as well as the whole of Oklahoma there was practically no rain as during the preceding week and the ground is again becoming dry.

NAVY DEPARTMENT WORK

Contractors Permitted Full Amount for the Work Performed.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The Navy Department today is promulgating with a good deal of zest, a law enacted in the dying hours of the special session of Congress by which the government is authorized to make partial payments on all naval contracts to the full amount of the work performed.

The last naval act stipulated that only 90 per cent. of the work actually accomplished could be settled for in partial payments. Officials of the department contend that this was a hardship on contractors and would be expensive to the government as bidders would ask higher prices because 10 per cent. of their outlay on government work would be tied up without remuneration during the life of the contract. Their wail was heeded by Congress which passed the resolution.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES.

American Federation Meets Next Year at Louisville—Officers.

Columbus, O., Aug. 23.—With the election of officers and the selection of Louisville, Ky., as the convention place next year, the business sessions of the American Federation of Catholic Societies came to a close here late today.

Edward Feeney, of Brooklyn, was re-elected president.

The convention voted down the proposed condemnation of the National Educational Association and adopted a substitute resolution, which does not mention the educational association, but which criticises in a general way all organizations which stand against government aid for religious education.

Fifty Million Issued for Telephone Extensions and Improvements.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 23.—A deed of trust, covering an authorization of a $50,000,000 bond issue, has been filed by the Southern Bell Telephone Company, with the clerk of the Superior Court of this (Fulton) county, it was announced here today. The deed is made to the Bankers' Trust Company and John H. Parsons of New York, as trustees. Ten millions have been issued to date. SMALL CROP OF BURLEY.

Only 50,000,000 Pounds Estimated for Kentucky Growers.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 23.—The burley tobacco crop of Kentucky which last year was estimated to be 300,000,000 pounds, will not amount to more than 50,000,000 this year, it is believed.

The great shortage is due to the worst drought in thirty years, hail storms, which recently damaged or destroyed 200 growing crops and the failure of hundreds of farmers who were members of the Burley Society to plant tobacco this year, on account of the large amount of the pooled crop of other years still unsold.

FLOORED JACK LONDON.

Western Lumber Magnate's Son in Set-to With the Author.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—From Eureka, where the man who looks for trouble speedily finds it, comes the news that Jack London, the author, and William K. Murphy, Jr., son of a lumber king of northern California, met in a Eureka cafe and failed to agree. There was an argument and then a fight and London went down.

It was not as sanguinary an encounter as some of those described by London in his fiction, but it left its impress on London's face and on the mind of Eureka.

SPLITTING A PICTURE.

One Case Where the Half Proved Greater Than the Whole.

There is no painter who lends himself to "splitting" so much as Botticelli—i. e., a division of the panel into two parts so as to form separate pictures. Years ago I sold to a Mr. Buttery of London half a Botticelli, which is now owned by Herr Kaufmann of Berlin. I have myself seen the other half of the picture, as well as the picture in its entire state.

In one case I can recall the half proved greater than the whole. A certain Signor Barili bequeathed a valuable Botticelli to his two grandsons, who were twins. But, although twins, these two young men were rather quarrelsome and had no taste in common. One proposed to sell the picture, which had been painted for one of their ancestors, it is said, by Botticelli himself. The other would not consent. The first then proposed that the other should buy his share and keep the picture himself. He took me with him, and I assigned the value of the picture at 5,000 lire, saying I would give that for it. The brother declined and suggested placing the picture in the custody of an aunt pending an adjustment of the terms. "Oh, very well," cried his brother, flying into a passion, "if you won't buy and won't let me sell there's only one thing to do," and before any one could interfere he emptied three chambers of a revolver into the panel, completely destroying one-half of the composition, including a St. John and a Joseph. The picture being sent to me to restore, I could do nothing with it and strongly advised separating the panel. Shortly after I did so the owner died, and I disposed of the work for 6,000 lire to Adolph Kann. It is now, I believe, in Russia. —E. Panzone in Strand Magazine.

FRECKLES GONE

"Simple Remedy From J. Hicks Bunting Co. Removed Them." Says Society Lady.

"The best skin specialist told me that nothing would remove my freckles and that I would carry them to my grave," said a well known society woman, "but I fooled them all with a new drug, othine—double strength, that I bought at J. Hicks Bunting's, which cleared my skin and gave me a fine complexion."

The action of othine is really remarkable, for when applied at night, many of the freckles disappear entirely by morning, and the rest have begun to fade. An ounce is usually all that is needed, even for the worst case.

Be sure to ask J. Hicks Bunting Co., for the double strength othine, as this is sold under a guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

LOCAL DOTS.

—There were two arrivals yesterday, the schooner Joel Cook, 319 tons, Capt. Ray, from Promised Land, with cargo of tankage for the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co., and the German steamer Elizabeth Rickmers, 2,673, Capt. Dieks, from Hamburg, via Savannah, with part cargo of German kainit. The schooner reports to C. D. Maffitt and the steamer to Alexander Sprunt & Son.

—Through the omission of two lines from the lead of the article in yesterday's paper relative to the proceedings of the City Council Tuesday afternoon, it was made to appear that Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt is in charge of the legal department of the city. It was written that "the legal department was represented by Assistant City Attorney Geo. L. Peschau and the health department by Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, the superintendent," but Mr. Peschau's name did not appear in the paper.

BOY ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Witnesses for Prosecution Appear Before Jurors at New York.

New York, Aug. 23.—Two days of preliminaries had cleared the stage for witnesses when the Geidel murder trial was continued today. The State will present evidence to show that the 17-year-old Hartford boy is doubly guilty of first degree murder because he visited the room of William H. Jackson with a bottle of chloroform in his pockets and robbed the aged broker after he had killed him.

In his opening address to the jury Assistant District Attorney Nott explained that murder was in the first degree if committed by premeditation or in the commission of a felony.

The prosecution's witnesses are employes of the hotel where Mr. Jackson lived alone and where he was killed, Geidel's landlady, his roommate and police officers, who declare that after his arrest, the prisoner made a detailed confession. It was not expected that they would complete their testimony today.

YACHT BONNIE DOON SINKS.

College Students Saved When the Vessel Strikes Gull Rock.

Digby, N. S., Aug. 23.—The yacht Bonnie Doon, on which four college students from Yale and other Connecticut institutions were cruising, ran aground on Gull Rock last night and was sunk. The passengers were saved.

Philadelphia, Aug. 23.—With their magazines filled with ammunition to be used in the practice cruise of the Atlantic fleet, the battleships Missouri, Maine and Mississippi, left the Philadelphia navy yard today for Hampton Roads.

..Theatrical..

Aren't men the artful dodgers and the slick schemers when it comes to fooling the poor woman? At any rate they think they are, and a vivid exemplification of this is shown in one of the swellest films ever manufactured and which will be shown at the ever popular Bijou today. Wives desiring to get onto the tricks of their wily husbands should certainly see this big photoplay and hubbies had also better see it so as to avoid pitfalls in future. The film will positively be exhibited by the Bijou today, regardless of the wrath of the married men. The photoplay is called "Bob's New Scheme," and it is a masterpiece for deception and it will furnish laughter by the yard. It is one of the most novel and one of the funniest of all films. There is not a dull moment during its entire presentation and the fun is of the wholesome type, too. It is simply a great smile-picture.

Another star film for today is "The Two Officers," showing how two friends are in love with the same girl. They stake their fate on a cut of the cards, and, of course, the wrong fellow wins the cut. However, everything comes out all right and the end is a happy one. How the problem is worked out is most ingenious and the pictures have to be seen in order to appreciate such. These are only two of the gems in the big jewel casket today at the Bijou. It may also be noted that a big new programme of music will be merrily served up.

Unspellable.

The Newfoundland seal folk for some reason not given by the St. John's correspondent of the New York Sun describe their greasy spoil as "swoils," and they also say they "spell" an object when they mean to carry it. One can imagine the amazement of the young cleric who on one occasion asked a burly hunter how he spelled "swoils."

"We don't spell 'em; we hauls 'em," was the bewildering reply.

The Retort Courteous.

"I hate to press this bill, Mr. Slowpay," said the tailor, taking a much wrinkled memorandum of accounts from his pocket, "but"—

"Oh, don't bother, Snip," said Slowpay genially. "You don't need to press it. I don't mind the wrinkles in it at all. Fact is, I've got a dozen fresh copies of it at home already."—Judge.

His Fatal Oversight.

He proposed to her by mail, and by letter she replied. He read her brief refusal, then committed suicide. Alas, he'd be alive today and she a happy bride had he but read the postscript penned on the other side.—Chicago News.

Shed Light on the World.

Blessed are the happiness makers. Blessed are they who know how to shine on one's gloom with their cheer. —Henry Ward Beecher.

The Indispensable Boy.

Caller—"How is your new office boy getting along these days?" Lawyer—"Oh, fine! He's got things so mixed up now that I couldn't get along without him!"—Puck.

Does Your Back Ache?

If you are a woman and you have this symptom get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound without delay.

Backache seems an invention of the evil one to try woman's souls. Only those who suffer this way can understand the wearing, ceaseless misery.

We ask all such women to read the following letter for proof that Mrs. Pinkham's medicine cures backache caused by woman's diseases.

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness on each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. Ollie Woodall, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made thousands of cures of such cases. You notice we say has cured thousands of cases. That means that we are telling you that it has done, not what we think it will do. We are stating facts, not guesses.

We challenge the world to name another remedy for woman's ills which has been so successful or received so many testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

COTTON RALLIED NEAR CLOSE

After Early Decline Near Months Advanced 10 to 12 Points—Another Quiet Day in the Market —Features

New York, August 23.—It was another quiet day in the cotton market and the fluctuations were again comparatively narrow, with an early decline followed by a rally and with the close steady at a net advance of from 10 to 12 points on near months, and of 3 to 6 points on active new crop positions.

The market opened steady at an advance of one point on August, but generally 1 to 4 points lower and during the first few minutes active new crop positions sold from 3 to 6 points under the closing figures of yesterday, as a result of scattering liquidation and local bear pressure, encouraged by easier cables, continued unfavorable reports from the English labor situation and the outlook for better weather in the Southwest. The official Western belt forecast confirmed private predictions of unsettled and showery conditions, with low temperatures, but there were quite a good many crop damage reports in the market, based on recent dry, hot weather in Texas, and while leading bulls seemed to be giving no aggressive support, prices soon steadied up on scattered covering. The buying was not active, but there seemed to be comparatively little cotton for sale and the market gradually worked up until in the late trading new crop positions were from 4 to 6 points net higher. August sold up to 1,250, or 11 points above the closing figures of yesterday on a little demand from scattering shorts, but at this level there was some cotton offered believed to be by old crop bulls. The close was within a point or two of the best.

Liverpool was a moderate buyer here early and New Orleans bought a few thousand bales toward the close, while other Southern points were credited with selling moderately on a scalie up. Business, however, was chiefly local and the demand was supposed to be mainly in the way of covering by scattered shorts owing to nervousness over the probable showing of the September condition figures next week.

Reports published by a private authority today indicated a deterioration of about 8 per cent. on crop prospects since the last government report.

Receipts, 15,025 bales today, against 6,346 last week and 7,792 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 900, against 309 last week and 349 last year. At Houston, 10,571, against 6,354 last week, and 6,842 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points higher; middling uplands, 12.10; middling gulf, 12.95; sales, none.

Futures opened steady and closed steady.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, August 23.—A steady demand for cotton goods for prompt and nearby shipments characterized the primary market during the day. Flannelettes and ginghams were called for in fairly good sized quantities for quick delivery and napped goods such as canton flannels and domets were wanted, also. More inquiry was in evidence for print cloths but only a moderate volume of business was put through. Worsted yarns were steady. A slight movement was discernible in spot yarns and prices are rather firmer on numbers that are in small supply.

EXTREME DULLNESS IN STOCKS

Transactions Smallest of Any Day for Some Weeks—Number of Low Records Established for the Movement

New York, Aug. 23.—The stock market today lapsed into its extreme dullness of the early summer. Transactions were almost the smallest of any day for some weeks and business was of a most perfunctory character. Such tendency as the list manifested at odd intervals was mostly in the direction of lower prices. Indeed a number of low records were established for the movement, Southern Pacific and American Tobacco, preferred, coming in for that belated distinction. From the first hour in which prices fell abruptly except in Canadian Pacific, which tried to recover some of its recent severe decline, the market rose and fell, sometimes within a one point range, but oftener than not changes were more circumscribed. In fact, from 11 o'clock until an hour before the close only 111,000 shares changed hands and the total output was less than 275,000. Such discussion as the day evoked dealt largely with the policy of economy and general retrenchment to which many of the large railroads and other vested interests clearly committed. A rather pessimistic interview attributed to the head of the Atchison road was in line with this programme and confirmed the belief now generally prevalent that conservatism and extreme caution in money spending are to guide all corporate undertakings for the balance of the year if not for a longer period. The labor situation at home continues rather critical in some railway quarters, particularly on the Southern Pacific and Illinois Central lines.

News respecting the Steel and Iron industry was somewhat conflicting. A few of the railroads have placed orders for very moderate quantities of rails, but other products are offered at lower prices, as a result of which the volume of business for the year may attain to last year's proportions.

Conditions in the copper metal trade are regarded with no small degree of satisfaction. There has been a very heavy demand, recently, largely from domestic consumers, and one of the largest producing companies is said to have marketed all its otuput since April 1. Relatively more firmness has been shown by copper securities in the recent decline than in any other class of stocks.

Further unsettlement was shown by the market in the last hour, with another drive against the active group, chiefly Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Atchison. The movement was suggestive of short selling, but was halted before it had gone very far and was followed by further stagnation. The closing was dull, with a heavy undertone, in which a majority of stock recorded net losses. The bond market was easier. Total sales, par value, $1,156,000. United States government 2 per cents advanced ¼ on call. Total sales for the day, 271,800 shares.

HOTEL TAAGEDY IN VIRGINIA

Three Persons Lost Their Lives on Account of Fire and Explosion. Wall Collapsed and Fell on Spectators.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 23.—Three persons were killed, one fatally injured and several others slightly hurt today as a result of a fire and explosion which damaged the Chancellor Hotel.

The dead are Floyd Smith, aged 15 years, son of a police captain; Geo. Washington, aged 22, colored, and Harry Hall, aged 15, colored.

Robert Daws, aged 14, was badly crushed and will die, while a number of others, among them Chester Kraft, a well known business man, sustained minor injuries.

The fire, which threatened to spread through the business section of the city, started in the laundry room on the seventh floor of the hotel. In the midst of the fire there was a terrific explosion. Escaping gas ignited in the assembly room on the seventh floor and the east wall on that story collapsed. The falling debris demolished a one-story brick building occupied by Dr. S. H. Wise. It was here that the spectators were caught.

One of the touching scenes was the fact that Police Captain Smith directed the work of recovering the bodies, but did not recognize the mangled form of his own son. It was an hour later before the identification was made. The loss was $25,000.

NEAR-SUICIDE AT GOLDSBORO.

Eloping Couple Caught—The Man Attemps Self Destruction.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Aug. 23.—Yesterday morning on the early train from the North a white couple, man and woman, arrived in this city and drifted up into the cotton mill section looking for work. Later in the day they were identified by police officers as meeting the description in a telegram from Virginia during the forenoon, calling for their arrest, and on the afternoon train a Mr. David Bowels, arrived from Petersburg and identified the couple. The man was Buford Miles, a common laborer 30 years of age, of Chesterfield, Va., where he has a wife and three children, and the woman is Sarah Bowels, 19 years of age, daughter of Mr. David Bowels, from whose home she eloped with Miles on August 11th.

Upon the evidence of the father of the woman in the case, the couple was committed to jail yesterday to await the arrival of requisition papers, and at an early hour this morning Miles cut his throat with a large pocket knife which had escaped in the search of his person when he was committed to jail. At 6:35 one of the other prisoners gave the alarm and he was found in a desperate condition by the officers who answered the call. He had missed the arteries, but had completely severed his windpipe rendering him speechless, and was weak and almost suffocated from loss of blood and coagulation. He was removed to the hospital where he is being cared for in an effort to save his life.

Upon being informed this afternoon that Buford Miles, the young man who eloped from Chesterfield, Va., with Miss Sarah Bowels, and who cut his throat in the jail this morning with a knife, could not possibly live, the girl's father removed her from the jail this afternoon and tonight father and daughter left on the northbound train for their home in Virginia.

COLLEGE STUDENTS STRANDED.

Many Americans Are in Desperate Straits in European Places

Boston, Aug. 23.—Scores of American students are selling postcards in the streets of Paris and performing other humble duties in the big cities of Europe to get a few cents a day with which to buy soup until the families cable them funds, according to five young men who are in Boston today after beating their way back from Europe as cattlemen.

The five are Joseph Nichols, J. J. Murphy and G. A. Eckdardt, of the University of Pennsylvania, Gilmore Siler, of Trinity College, and J. A. Smith, of Ignatius College, Cal. They declare that the exodus of college students to Europe was unusually large this Summer and add that a large proportion of those who went abroad are now stranded in various foreign cities.

"There are scores of students who will be absent when the roll is called this Fall in American colleges," said Siler. "We found a number of them in Paris willing to do anything in order to earn a few cents. There are more in London, Rotterdam, Antwerp and in the cities along the Rhine. Many of them are on charity while waiting to hear from friends or relatives on this side."

MYSTERY IS IMPENETRABLE

No Trace of Costly Painting Stolen at Paris

Paris, Aug. 23.—The mystery of the disappearance from the Louvre of Leonardo Vinci's great painting, Molisa, popularly called by the French, LaJaconde, appears more impenetrable than ever tonight. The only thing definite established by today's investigations is that the picture disappeared between the hours of 7 and 8:30 o'clock Monday morning. Whether it is still in the Louvre or has been taken away it is impossible at present to determine.

Not the faintest clue has been discovered in spite of the united efforts of sixty of the smartest detectives in Paris and all the museum staff. Whether the picture was abstracted by one or several persons, also remains in doubt and M. Lepine the prefect of police, admits that he is completely baffled. It is one of the hardest cases in the annals of criminal investigation and the search is being continued with unremitted zeal. To facilitate this the museum will be closed for three days. No one will be admitted on any pretext whatever, except the police and officials.

A council of war was held in the Louvre this afternoon, those in attendance including M. Steeg, minister of public instruction; Dujardin-Beaumetz, under secretary of public instruction and fine arts; M. Lepine, M. Hemolle, director of the Louvre; Examining Magistrate Drioux, who is charged with the judicial investigation, and the different chiefs of the museum. Various theories were advanced, weighed and finally rejected for lack of evidence. The consensus of opinion, however, was that the picture has not left the building but has been placed in one of the innumerable recesses. It would require at least a week to search minutely every cranny of the building. There is an immense packing room, which contains a quantity of cases used for sending off plaster casts of the statues and similar works to the provincial museums and schools. It is thought that the picture might be hidden in one of these cases, covered with straw.

Officers Elected Shortly Before Midnight—Dirve Over Estate

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 23.—The second day's session of the State Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., was without interest except in the election of officers tonight shortly before midnight. The morning session was devoted to roll call, organization, etc., and this afternoon the delegates went for drives over the Vanderbilt estate. Telegrams of greetings were sent to State Councils now in session in Indiana and Ohio.

Tonight degree work was exemplified by the local councils and afterwards officers were elected including U. M. Gilligan, Goldsboro, State Councilor; N. L. Eure, Greensboro, State Vice Councilor; Sam L. Vance, Winston-Salem, State Council Secretary; George F. Fulp, Kernersville, State Council Treasurer; Rev. Mr. Nicks, Pelham, re-elected State Council Chaplain.

COTTON CATERPILLAR.

State Entomologist Says Damage is 30 to 50 Per Cent.

Montgomery, Ala., August 23.—Dr. W. E. Hines, State entomologist, tonight predicted that the caterpillar or cotton worm will curtail the cotton crop in this State from 30 to 50 per cent. and that within the next few weeks other States east of the Mississippi river would feel the force of this pest. The worms are beginning to work in Mississippi, he said, and he is getting reports from other States of their appearance. It is an impossibility, said Dr. Hinds, for the South to make a fifteen million bale crop this season. In this and in other States the rains have ruined the middle crop and the worms are about to get the top crop. He does not taink the danger will be over until the middle of October.

DISCOURTESY TO PRESIDENT

Connecticut Grange Regrets Action of Officers of Society

Hartford, Conn, Aug. 23.—Washington Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, in this State, on Monday evening passed resolutions "in sorrow and not in anger," rebuking those who presumed to represent the order in this State in their attitude towards President Taft in connection with his coming to the Connecticut fair at Charter Oak Park, when they decided to have no Grange day at the fair. The resolutions declare the actions of the officials of the Connecticut State Grange to be "acts of gross and unwaranted discourtesy to the chief executive of our nation whom we respect as a man and honor as our President, regardless of our party affiliations, or our views in regard to the reciprocity agreement."

Cuban, Learning Machinist Trade Sustains Skull Fracture

Easton, Pa., Aug. 23.—A bursting emery wheel killed Y. Blasecadado, a young Cuban sent to the United States to learn the machinist trade and mechanical engineering in the plant of Treadwell Engine Company, near here. He was operating the wheel when it bursted and a fragment of the wheel fractured his skull. He came from a prominent and wealthy family at Chapada, Cuba. He was twenty-one years of age.

The body probably will be taken to his home by two other young Cubans who came to Easton to pursue a similar line of study.

SPIRITED AWAY FROM ATLANTA.

Young Woman Was Found in Sanitarium in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 23.—After searching for several weeks for her sister, whom she says was spirited away from her home, Miss Alice Palmer, prominent in the social circles of Atlanta, Ga., today declared she found her in a sanitarium in Cincinnati and filed a writ of habeas corpus seeking her realease. Upon application of John E. Bruce, counsel for the sanitarium, Common Pleas Judge Cushing postponed the hearing on the writ until tomorrow. Miss Palmer alleges that her sister Annie, aged 36, also of Atlanta, is confined in the sanitarium and that the officials of the institution have refused her permission to see or communicate with her. Miss Palmer charges that her half sister, Mrs. H. Cummings, of Augusta, Ga., went to Atlanta while the plaintiff was visiting in Vermont and secured her sister.

In asking for a postponement of the hearing on the writ, Attorney Bruce told the court Miss Palmer had been brought to the institution by her half sister, with the consent of a brother and two other sisters, all residents of the South. He also said that a telegram had been received at the sanitarium from the brother of the woman asking that an effort be made to prevent her being released. He said he wished to communicate with the other sisters by wire before the case was heard. Miss Palmer was brought into court by a deputy sheriff. She appeared to be delighted to see her sister Alice and laughed and chatted with her before the case was begun.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 23.—Miss Alice Palmer and her sister, Miss Annie Palmer, for whose release from a sanitarium in Cincinnati, the former instituted habeas corpus proceedings in Cincinnati today, are socially prominent in Atlanta. They live in Inman Park, one of the most fashionable suburbs of the city. Mrs. Cummins, of Augusta, whose name also is mentioned in the proceedings, is a daughter-in-law of Judge Cummins, now of Augusta, formerly a justice of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts.

Relatives of the Misses Palmer now in Atlanta say Miss Annie Palmer was taken to a sanitarium in Cincinnati following a nervous break down due to over-study, and that Miss Alice Palmer, from the first objected to her sister's being sent there, in spite of the fact that she appeared willing to go.

MAIL BY FAST FREIGHT

Hitchcock's Latest Scheme for Retrenchment in Postoffice Service

Washington, Aug. 23. — Arrangements have been perfected by the Postoffice Department whereby second class mail matter consisting of magazines and periodicals, hertofore transported in railway mail cars, will be carried by fast freight, beginning September 1st. The order was issued today.

With the idea of reducing the expense of transporting this, the greater paret of second class mail, Postmaster General Hitchcock has taken advantage of an old statute permitting the Department to send it by freight.

The publishers art to be permitted to print on the wrapper of each copy or bundle of their publications as a part of the address, instructions as to the date on which delivery is to be made. In accordance with this arrangement, postmasters have been directed to carry out the instructions with respect to the delivery of fast freight mail.

Publishers have assured the Postmaster General that they generally will be satisfied with the arrangement and assurances also have been received from the railways that the mail can be delivered promptly. The expense of transporting and delivery will be far less than at present.

ENGLAND'S LABOR TROUBLE

Situation is Still Tense at Liverpool —Conferences Held

London, Aug. 23.—Hopes that the labor troubles at Liverpool would be settled quickly have again been disappointed. Tom Mann and other strike leaders arrived in London tonight from Liverpool and held a conference with representatives of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants and the transport federation, as a result of which an ultimatum was sent to Premier Asquith, Sydney Buxton, president of the Board of Trade, and to Lord Mayor of Liverpool, practically demanding the reinstatement of the Liverpool tramway men by noon tomorrow. Meantime, the situation is so acute that George R. Askwith, Controller General of the Labor Department of the Board of Trade, has gone to Liverpool to try to arrange matters.

Mann declares that it is the intention of the leaders to bring about a National strike unless the corporation yields.

DELL SCHOOL OPENING.

At Burgaw Tuesday—Burgaw Dramatic Company at Atkinson.

Burgaw, N. C., Aug. 23.—Dell school opened yesterday under the most auspicious prospects for a good year that has ever been known. The enrollment this year is 106 against 86 at the time of opening last year. The opening exercises were held in the morning at which several fine addresses were delivered and interestingly listened to by the student body as well as many friends who had gathered to witness the formal opening for the year's work. The last address on the programme, which was of unusual interest and merit, was delivered by Mr. E. N. Johnson, who will graduate this year at the Kentucky Seminary. Mr. Johnson is a charter member of the school. He will preach next Sunday, both morning and evening, at the Dell Baptist Church. Several students from Wilmington and New Hanover are among the enrollment this year.

Dell school has been greatly enlarged in its scope for this year's work, and among the added courses carried this year is voice culture, elocution and band music. With the largest enrollment on opening day in its history and the many added features which it is expected will develop profitably for the students, a most successful session is looked for.

The Burgaw Dramatic Company, who were presented with such signal success at Burgaw and Wallace last week, a recent organization, will present their play, "The Country Doctor," in the school auditorium at Atkinson next Friday night, August 25th. The company is composed of 11 of the most talented young people of Burgaw, and is giving these plays under the auspices of the Baraca class of the Burgaw Baptist Church for the benefit of the building fund for the erection of a new class room for the Baracas. The recent performances here and at Wallace were crowned with great success, and a large crowd of the good people of Atkinson are expected to greet them on their appearance there. Misses Mala and Bryana, and Mr. Raymond Whitlock, of Wilmington, will go up to assist in furnishing music for the occasion.
